Stirling Rotary Club Sponsoring Easter Seal Campaign In District

Funds For Work Among Ont. Crippled Children —
Whipper Watson Appeals

Members of the Stirling Rotary Club are sponsoring the appeal for funds being made in this district on behalf of the Ontario Society for Crippled Children through the sale of Easter Seals. Rotarian Robert Patterson is chairman of the local committee and will accept donations on behalf of the crippled children during the campaign from February 25th to March 25th.

"All the fine work being done for children by hard-working groups of good citizens these days, I doubt if there is any more praiseworthy and deserving of support than helping the crippled kiddies," states Whipper Billy Watson, former heavyweight wrestling champion of the world and current holder of the British Empire championship.

"I know this to be a fact, as I have visited a great many of these crippled children in several cities in my wrestling travels and I've always found them to be exceptionally happy children, even though they are handicapped."

"They strike me as being particularly deserving of whatever we can do for them, because they are always full of fun, have a big smile and never seem to give up hope that they will some day get well. They actually make some of us feel ashamed for the undue concern we have over our pretty, healthy problems."

"Anything we can do to brighten and improve their lot is worthwhile. However, the most logical way to do this is undoubtedly by giving our financial support to the organization whose prime objective is their welfare — namely, the Ontario Society for Crippled Children.

"This can be done by contributing to the Society's Easter Seals Campaign to be held February 25th to March 25th.

"With God's help, the children's own faith and our material aid, their future is bound to be happier."

"I have a sincere interest in children, constantly speaking on safety to youngsters in schools, as I believe this too is a great field in which to save lives."

"I also appreciate the unquestionable fact that something must be done for the unfortunate crippled kiddies. That's why the Easter Seals Campaign deserves all the assistance we can give."

Course In Puppetry Starts Here Monday

St. Paul's Sunday School Hall will be the scene of a three-day community recreation course in puppetry starting March 5th under the sponsorship of the Community Programmes Branch of the Ontario Department of Education and local recreation groups. Designed to assist communities develop leaders in that form of recreation, similar puppet courses are being held throughout Ontario.

The instructor will be George Merten, who has 20 years' experience in puppetry, included the presentation of television shows for the British Broadcasting Corporation and conducting puppetry classes for the London County Council. Mr. Merten is now a member of the Community Programs Branch.

The course, called the Puppet in Your Community, will offer instruction to from 10 to 20 community leaders from Hastings County in the manipulation, construction and use of puppets. Previous courses have all been oversubscribed.

Described as an ideal form of community recreation, puppetry brings together people of many hobbies and leisure-time skills. Interests ranging from woodwork to dressmaking and painting to stage managing are all needed in producing a puppet show. The course content is made up of discussions and actual practice in making and manipulating puppets.

SOMETHING WRONG

In the first half of 1950, four Britons went to Australia for every one that came to Canada.

What's wrong? Has Canada set up barriers against British immigration?

Attend O.M.E.A. Convention

Members of the Stirling Public Utilities Commission, Messrs. Bruce Bell, H. C. Bird and Reeve H. J. Wells and A. F. Sprenstall, Manager, attended the annual convention of the Ontario Municipal Electric Association held in the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, this week.

A real estate deal of interest was completed recently when Russell Rupert purchased the property of Mrs. E. Jackman on Front St. West.

Brintons Eliminate Stirling In T.V.L.

Peterborough Brinton's eliminated Stirling from the T.V.L. Play-Offs last night by defeating them 8 to 3 in the Hastings Arena. The winners will now meet either Campbellford or Norwood in the finals of the Northern section of the League.

In last night's game, Stirling had a fair share of the play but Byers in the Brinton's net was their stumbling block.

Hearty Welcome To Newcomers

The people of Wellman's and surrounding community gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fleming Goodkey on Friday evening to extend to them a hearty welcome into their midst.

Mr. S. Hoover very capably officiated as chairman. A short programme was given consisting of readings by Mrs. Clarence Dunham, Mrs. Douglas Clancy and Mrs. Jack Dunham; musical numbers by Annie and Margaret Dracup, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Watson, Mrs. Frederick Beckett and Mrs. Kenneth Tompkins.

Mrs. Stewart Hoover then read a very appropriate address which she had prepared and Messrs. Thomas Hinds and Kenneth Tompkins presented the honoured guests with a torchiere lamp and glass table centre. Baby Linda was presented with a big rubber ball.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodkey made very fitting replies, thanking everyone for the gifts and extending a hearty invitation to everyone to come and see them again soon.

Everyone joined in singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows," followed by a dainty lunch served by the ladies.

March 20th Deadline For Motor Licenses

Ontario motorists who have not yet obtained their 1951 drivers' licenses and motor vehicle permit have been given a three-week reprieve.

An extension until March 20th was announced by Highways Minister Doucet on the eve of the previous deadline. He said no further leeway will be made.

The minister said the extension was made because the license-issuing staff had been left shorthanded by colds and the flu.

"This year," he said, "motorists in even larger numbers than usual appear to have put off securing their new plates and licenses with the result that crowds of applicants at all issuing offices cannot all be served before March 1st with present staffs."

Though drivers have been lining up all over Ontario in a last-minute rush to beat the deadline, motor vehicle branch officials report that less than half of the licenses have been issued.

"We're up against a pretty tough proposition," one said. "In the next three weeks we've got to issue more licenses than we've handed out in the past two months."

Even if there are no more cars to be licensed this year than last, it works out at more than 500,000 sets of markers waiting to be claimed. In all, 1,104,080 motor vehicles were licensed in the province in 1950. Drivers' permits numbered 1,366,383.

The progress being made on the new public school was discussed at some length by the Board members and it was the consensus that the architect be asked to meet the Board as soon as convenient to discuss certain matters. Mr. R. W. Melkilejohn, secretary, was asked to write Mr. J. B. Parkin to him to meet the Board.

R. A. Patterson, chairman of Finance, presented the following accounts for payment: —James Texts, $3.60; T. Spy, coal $175.00; Mrs. C. A. Wells, $12.00; J. B. Parkin, $595.95; Moyer School Supplies, $15.90.

Stirling Dropped Semi-final Game

Stirling Intermediates were decidedly off form on Friday night last and dropped the first game of the two out of three semi-final series with Brinton's, of Peterborough, by the score of 7 to 3. The game was played at the local arena before a fair crowd of fans who saw the visitors completely outclass the homesteaders in every department of the game. That the score was not in double figures can only be attributed to the stellar work of Bates in the local nets.

The visitors took a 3 to 0 lead in the first period and from then on the result was never in doubt. Lorne Eakins and Ken Lawson paced the winners with two goals and an assist each while Fred Harden was best for Stirling with two goals.

Red Cross Appeal Supported By Canadian Political Leaders

New responsibility of the Canadian Red Cross for supplying blood and blood products for the armed forces and for civil defence requirements was cited as an additional reason for supporting the Society's national appeal for funds which opens today across the nation, in statements issued by the three political leaders in Parliament.

"This year, in addition to its other work, the Society has undertaken, in conjunction with the federal government, the important task of procuring blood and blood products for our armed forces and civil defence requirements," said Prime Minister St. Laurent. "Let us give generously."

"Most of us remember with gratitude the immediate and well-organized assistance provided at the time of the disastrous floods and fires that occurred in Canada last year," he added.

George Drew, Progressive-Conservative leader, stated, "One of the Society's greatest contributions to Canada is the operation of 82 Outpost Hospitals and Nursing Stations in isolated communities."

He, with M. J. Coldwell, leader of the C.C.F., called attention to the thousands of lives the free blood transfusion service had saved since the last war and the protection it would be for the armed forces in the future.

"If the Red Cross is to continue as an inspiration to us all; to go on serving you and me and the people next door; the Canadian public must give it their most generous support," declared Mr. Coldwell.

St. Andrew's W.M.S. February Meeting

The February meeting of St. Andrew's W.M.S. was held in the Sunday School Rooms on Wednesday afternoon, February 21st.

The president, Mrs. L. Rodgers, had charge of the devotional part of the meeting. Mrs. Harold McGee read the Scripture Lesson, which was the story of the Good Samaritan. Mrs. Jas. Johnston led the meeting in prayer. Mrs. W. H. V. Walker conducted the Roll Call, the word "mercy" being the keynote of the meeting. Mrs. E. Foster explained the work in connection with the bale thus far this year. It was decided to have a home-cooking sale in May in support of this department of the work.

Mrs. Ken Ray gave a splendid paper on "God is Plenteous in Mercy." It has been said that it is easier to preach than to practise. Not so in the teaching of our Lord Jesus. He, who had commanded His followers to forgive those who offended Him up until seventy times seven has been illustrating this principle in His dealings with men ever since He provided a way back for our father Adam. All God's contracts with our lost race have been based on our willingness to forgive. At any and all moments God stands ready to forgive the sinners and forget the sin.

Mrs. E. Hoard gave a reading, "What Lies Behind the Collection Plate?" A Missionary speaker was arrested with the joy in the eyes of a young woman in his audience. She was poorly dressed but her face was lit up with joy. He waited to speak to her and he asked her why she seemed so happy. She said, "When I make my gift and it is but little with what many others are able to do, I feel I am part of the forces which God is using to uplift the nations."

Are we too giving imaginatively? The coin or bill we drop on the collection plate Sunday by Sunday — do we realize that our gift is a means where mighty spiritual forces are liberated and used by God for His healing and redemptive purposes. Let us all as we present our offerings give gratefully, give systematically and give imaginatively looking behind and beyond the collection plate to see a world in need — a world so near to Christ's heart that He died to redeem it.

Miss Gena Spry gave the topic, "Our Share in the World Mission." Advance the time is now. Today on every hand we hear the world advance. Practically every branch of the Christian Church has an "advance programme." We are being constantly reminded of the urgency of the moment. The time is now, tomorrow may be too late.

Mrs. Blanche Reid had charge of the collection. Mrs. L. Rodgers led in prayer.

At the conclusion of the meeting a delightful afternoon tea was served by members of the Ladies Aid as well as of the W.M.S. Mrs. A. Greenley, Mrs. Ken Ray, Mrs. L. Dafoe and Mrs. Bob Cooke proved themselves to be ideal hostesses. All enjoyed a social time. Mrs. Percy Craighead expressed the appreciation of the ladies to those who had helped with the programme and to those who had provided lunch.

Mothers' Allowance Cases Granted Supplementary

Where special need is evident, Mothers' Allowance cases may be granted a supplementary amount up to $20.00 monthly, it was announced by the Honourable W. A. Goodfellow, Ontario's Minister of Public Welfare.

"It is found in the smaller family groups, particularly, that the extra allowance will be of much assistance in overcoming the increased cost of living," the Minister said. The basic schedules are $50.00 a month for a mother and one child, plus $10 for each additional dependent child in the mother's care. Where a dependent husband is a member of the family an additional $10 is given. The supplementary allowance of $20 in special cases replaces the previous maximum of $10. Medical services are available to beneficiaries together with fuel requirements during the heating season.

Mr. Goodfellow stated that the Mother's Allowances Act was the first major step taken by the Province to give economic protection to families where the husband could not provide for the family because of death or incapacity. "This Act has proven through the years to be one of our finest and has kept families together so that the children take their proper place in the world. The benefits make it possible for the mothers to stay in the home and give the necessary care to children, although many mothers are able to accept employment and have their earnings supplemented by the allowance," Mr. Goodfellow added.

The Mothers' Allowances program is administered by the Department of Public Welfare, with the Province meeting the total cost of approximately $500,000 monthly. Primary beneficiaries are widows together with women whose husbands are permanently incapacitated by reason of a physical or mental disability, and deserted wives. Payments are also made available to foster mothers caring for orphans.

The Mothers' Allowances Commission determines each case largely on the conditions applying in each individual family. At this time there are 7,233 mothers in receipt of benefits with 16,268 dependents.

Traffic Deaths Down First Month of 1951

Street and highway accidents in Ontario took 45 lives in January, compared with 51 last January and 57 in that month of 1941.

With traffic volume still mounting, the improved traffic death records set by eight of the 12 months last year are going to be hard to beat. Highway Minister Geo. H. Doucett warns that there is no ground for complacency regarding the 1951 accident outlook.

Many factors played a part in January's fatal accident record, for example: speeds too fast for icy surface, unwise attempts to pass other vehicles, failure to stop and wait before entering through streets and failure to signal turns.

Four of the deaths resulted from collisions with trains, including one crash where a truck derailed the train, killing the engineer and injuring many others. Two of the railway crossing accidents involved vehicles that stalled on the tracks.

Nineteen of the 45 victims were pedestrians. Seven were children, of whom six were killed on foot. Seven of the pedestrians lost their lives when they tried to cross a road from behind a parked car.

Police in apprehending two men suspected of stealing ranch-raised mink recently. Arrests were made as a result of the evidence secured.

A noticeable increase in the number of applications for fish this year is reported from several parts of the Quinte District. Those interested are reminded of the March 1st deadline. Be sure to have any further applications in the hands of your local Conservation Officer by that date.

Inspector R. G. Sheppard and District Biologist H. G. Lumsden were in Toronto, February 21, 22 and 23, attending a Conference of Senior Conservation Officers and Biologists. A wide variety of subjects pertaining to Fish and Wildlife were discussed and ideas exchanged between representatives from all parts of the Province.

St. Paul's-Carmel*Items of Interest

(By Rev. A. E. Baker, U.E.)

Elders of St. Paul's are taking part in many of our 1951 services by sharing with the Minister the Scripture Lessons. To date these include Geo. Carlisle, Walter T. Elliott, Fred Bateman, W. L. Fox, J. L. Good and W. G. Hagerman.

For many years Thomas Douglas was clerk of Rawdon Township. Early Reeves included Edward Fidler who was succeeded by Wm. Baker, 1853; John Fletcher, 1855; Robert Kerr, 1856; James Cook, 1858.

The first Town Wardens of Stirling Village, Nicholas Lake and John Garrett were appointed March 18th, 1854. In 1855 James Blackley became a Town Warden for Stirling.

Who's Who!

If you were to meet him in Ottawa you might easily mistake him for a cabinet minister such is the atmosphere of a large man of kindly manner and twinkling eye who watches the ebb and flow of village life from his desk near a clean and unusually large office window at the heart of Stirling's business district.

He was born at Clydesdale, Chandos Township, Haliburton, and began to learn the craft of cheese-making from his mother (an expert) at the early age of 13. His father was born in the Township of Tyendinaga, east of Marysville, and carried the Scriptural name of John, while his mother was born in the United States during a brief sojourn there by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Elevin. She really belongs to the district of Malone, North Hastings, and was baptized Annie Maria.

Under the hand of his farmer father and the expert training of his mother the apprentice became himself an expert cheesemaker. He strove valiantly as a young bachelor, but a charming "Miss" who had attended the "Brown" School on the 8th of Rawdon, while he attended the "White" School about two miles distant on the same Concession fell prey to his charms and they were happily married by Rev. T. H. Hall (Church of England), at Bonarlaw in 1915.

Note: It is said by some that these schools were named after the color of their respective exteriors.

From the pursuit of cheesemaking in Hastings and Northumberland this fine couple with a lusty family about them moved to Stirling in 1925 and took up residence on "Piety Hill" a district in which they continue to reside. Now at the corner of Victoria and James Street.

In Stirling William Copeland West left his first love of cheesemaking for the Creamery business. This has prospered under his hand to produce upwards of 500,000 pounds of butter a year. In addition to this fine enterprise which engages the interest of several members of his family and additional employees, Mr. West established at the close of World War II a modern cold storage plant which serves several hundred pleased customers.

His record of public services includes 18 years as a member of the Village Council, during 13 years of which he presided as Reeve. He is one of only five Stirling Reeves to be honoured with the County Wardenship since the Village was incorporated in 1858. The village water system was installed during his term of office.

Elizabeth Jane Tanner — Mrs. W. C. West — has been the devoted helpmeet, wife and partner of this respected citizen. She was born in Iniskillin, Lambton County, a daughter of Murkinson and Emma Tanner. Her parents lived on the 8th Concession of Rawdon Township for many years.

Like her devoted mother she raised her own children and did not entrust them, on the slightest whim, to the care of "outsiders" or professional "baby sitters." This Queen of the home has found her interests in her husband, her children Wm. Harold, Russell Keith, Clarence Elmer, born in Northumberland, Murray Township, Evelyn Jean (Mrs. David Duffin) and Marabelle Irene, born in this village of Stirling and in her church. She does not belong to any organization outside of the church. Mr. and Mrs. West are "Grandpa" and "Grandma" blessed with eight grandchildren and "apples of their eyes."

Two sons, Russell and Clarence saw service in World War II. The former has been recently elected to the Village Council. The high standards maintained in the home, church and community by Mr. and Mrs. West provide an incentive and challenge to their children and grandchildren.

While not a "joiner" Mr. West is a member of the Masonic Order and possibly the only member of the Shrine in the village. He is an Elder of St. Paul's United Church and faithful to his obligations as a follower of Jesus Christ. Like Longfellow's village blacksmith it makes his heart rejoice to hear his daughter "singing in the village choir," and his granddaughter Sandra give leadership in the identification of Bible characters. She is a member of the Royal Stirling Junior Choir.

It is no wonder that W. C. West has been successful. Asked the key word of success in the creamery business, he毫不犹豫地 replied "cleanliness." That goes for every department of life in heart, home and business. It is known that Mr. West values beyond most citizens the great contribution that farmers are making to village, county and national life. A friend of all, his heart is particularly close to the fine men and women who live on the farms. He is a follower of "Nimrod" and "Luke Walton," and has established a summer retreat on Salmon Lake near St. Ola.

Plan to meet and hear the Moderator at Tabernacle Church, Belleville, on Thursday, March 1st at 8 p.m.

We were glad to have the Stirling Boy Scouts and Cubs under the leadership of Scoutmaster Frank Harding and Cubmaster Joe Irish at St. Paul's last Sunday. Scout Tommy Wells was presented with the coveted religious knowledge badge. The irregular attendance at church of several of our Scouts and Cubs is a violation of Scout and Cub promise which reads, "I promise to do my best, To do my duty to God and the King."

The Choir of St. Paul's almost filled the loft last Sunday. Mrs. Francis Jeffrey was the anthem soloist and the effort of both choir and soloist was widely commended. The male quartette Messrs. R. A. Patterson, Harold Hagerman, Harry Brown and Jack Bush heard for the first time were a manifest ministry as they sang "Saviour Thy Dying Love." This combination gives promise of many inspirational "treats."

Mrs. Wilfred Skitch, noted soprano soloist graciously sang at St. Paul's and Carmel. We are fortunate in the outstanding talent that visits our churches and in the voice material in our own community. Although their numbers were depleted by the parade service and sickness, the Royal Choir sang sweetly, "When Morning Gilds The Skies."

Hello Homemakers! Do you recall the old saying, "A merry heart doeth like medicine?" Being confined to bed is not much fun and it takes a great deal of thoughtful attention to sustain a patient. It may be a sympathetic smile or a cheery card or letter which helps. Then too, there is the prospect of an attractive tray three times a day. The restful atmosphere of a room also makes a difference — freshly laundered bedclothes, an extra pillow, a box of tissues and a thermos of water. A bedside table placed conveniently for the invalid may be the coffee table from the living room because, if the bed is low, he needs a low place for his book, clock and whatever he needs.

Clean the sick room daily and do it quietly. This is often quite a job without raising too much dust or the patient's temperature. If you must be nurse and housekeeper, streamline your household tasks so that you get plenty of rest too.

When the tray is brought to the bedside it should provide something attractive and surprising. By the way, a bed tray is a good purchase for family use. On the tray place a colourful plastic mat and set something interesting amid the essentials such as a flower in a bon bon dish, a novelty salt shaker, a quaint little cream jug or individual ramekin dishes to hold the food. Cut the buttered bread in pieces easy to handle or make dainty sandwiches garnished with cress.

Serve hot dishes hot and cold items cold. There should be no drip to the salad and sauces should not mingle with other items on the plate. Patties made from lamb or veal or an individual meat pie for the patient-on-the-mend. Foods for the sick must be those requested by the doctor but when he suggests certain soft foods your problem can be solved by purchasing baby or junior canned foods. There is a wonderful variety of these from which to choose.

For the convalescent's dessert remember fresh frozen fruit (thawed out) canned fruit salad, rosy baked apples, ice cream, sherbets, custards and other creamed mixtures. Such treats encourage any patient to 'sit up and take notice.'

1 tsp. baking soda
1/2 tsp. salt

Mix thoroughly. Form into small round balls and place on baking sheet. Flatten into shape with a fork. Bake in an electric oven pre-heated to 350 degrees, to a delicate brown.

Miss B. H. requests the following recipe:

Tapica Custard

1 cup minute tapioca
2 cups white sugar
1 tsp. salt
1 egg yolk
3 cups milk
1 egg white
1-8 tsp. salt
1 tsp. vanilla

Combine tapioca, sugar, salt and beaten egg yolks and milk in top of double boiler. Cover and cook over boiling water for 7 minutes. Uncover, stir frequently as it cooks 5 minutes more. Remove from heat.

When the pudding begins to thicken as it cools, fold in the beaten egg white and salt. Add vanilla.

If desired any one of the following additions may be made — 1/2 cup cocoanut, 1/2 cup toasted or 1 square semi-sweet chocolate.

School Attendance Rural and Urban

As in previous censuses, the Ninth Decennial Census of Canada in June this year will inquire as to the number at school and the years spent at school of each person in the population. The resultant tabulations will indicate whether or not the average number of years at school have risen since 1941, and what changes have occurred in this respect as between urban and rural areas. While it will not include a question on literacy, the figures for years of schooling will afford a fair indication of the number functionally illiterate.

Approximately ten years were being spent in school by the average Canadian child at the time of the 1941 Census. While school organization differs from province to province, this would mean that the average child would complete the intermediate grades or be enrolled in high school for about a year. This was more schooling than recorded at any previous census and reflected a trend, shown in each succeeding census, towards fewer drop-outs in the lower school grades and an increase in the number who bridge the gap between elementary and high school grades.

The 1941 Census also showed that the percentage of urban children attending school was greater than the percentage of rural children at school, and that 39 per cent of the urban population as against 21 per cent of the rural population had had nine or more years of schooling.

One reason for the difference between rural and urban enrolments is that many pupils in rural areas must leave their homes to attend high school or else take correspondence courses, whereas pupils in the urban areas can attend school while staying at home and may also select an academic, commercial, technical or composite school to attend. In many cities, junior high schools help them bridge the gap between elementary and secondary school.

A second reason is found in the greater need for the farm child's services at home and the case which rural boys and girls may change from helping at home while attending school to just helping at home. Job requirement in the cities puts more of a premium on years of school completed. There is a trend towards providing more facilities for technical education in towns and cities. Rural high schools also provide practical training in agriculture and home economics for farm boys who formerly learned these mostly at home.

Census figures on the numbers not attending school, broken down for rural and urban areas, present the converse to the figures of school enrollment and years of schooling. For 1941 these show that eight per cent of children seven to nine years of age were not attending school in rural areas as against four per cent in urban areas; eight per cent of rural and three per cent of urban children ten to 14 years old; and 72 and 58 per cent respectively of those 15 to 19 years of age.

For people in cities of 30,000 and over the average number of years of schooling in 1941 was greater than for those in centres of 5,000 to 30,000 population. In the larger centres 42 per cent of the population had attended school for nine or more years, 37 per cent in centres of 5,000 to 30,000, and 34 per cent in urban areas of less than 1,000.

Proper Brushing of Teeth Still Major Health Factor

Research conducted in recent years has proved clearly that proper brushing of the teeth is of great value in the central of dental diseases, says a message issued by the Canadian Dental Association.

A precise method used for two minutes immediately after each meal will remove the cause of much tooth decay and prevent loss of teeth," the statement says. "It is admitted that some of the tooth brushing is so poorly and incorrectly performed that it is of little value to the individual. Therefore it is important to have your dentist demonstrate a proper method of tooth brushing.

"The acid produced in the mouth from certain foods, mainly carbohydrates, sugars, candies and soft drinks, attacks tooth enamel unless removed within a few minutes after meals. Once the tooth enamel is penetrated decay starts and progresses until checked. A reduction of sweet foods and carbohydrates is most necessary in the control of dental decay.

"Good Morning brushing is also important in maintaining the health of the gums by stimulating the circulation of the blood. In the treatment of abnormal gum conditions the tooth brush may be used effectively as directed by your dentist.

"Dental diseases appear early in life. To safeguard dental health and to reduce the incidence of dental diseases, there are three things you can do which are recommended by the Canadian Dental Association:

"1—Take your child regularly to your dentist commencing at the age of three years.

"2—Brush your own teeth and those of your child until he can do it himself by an accepted method.

"3—Restrict the daily intake of carbohydrates and sugars in the diet."

What Others Say!

WHERE CREDIT IS DUE

Our hats are off to rural school teachers. These members of the profession merit more attention and praise than usually come their way. They work under adverse conditions, and all to often they are overlooked when the value of teachers is taken into account.

Ironically enough, more resourcefulness and versatility are required of the country school teacher than of the teacher in a graded city school. Rural areas provide a rigorous testing ground for the tyro. Isolated, farm life can bring out the best, or the worst, and a period of experience in the country will establish or disillusion the young beginner.

Not all teachers have had the experience of coping with 40 pupils in mixed grades. Some, because of more extensive training begin their work in the more specialized graded city school. The instructor who has not been able to gain a university education is usually given an initial proving period in rural communities. But not all country school teachers are of mediocre ability, nor are all city teachers the ultimate in educational attainment.

Rural school pupils consequently are not always taught by top-flight teachers. Environment, limited social life, and often meagre salaries cannot compete with city teaching conditions. The advantages are not all with the city pupil, however. It is well known that many distinguished Canadians have started their upward climb in a country school.

Perhaps the answer is to make rural teaching conditions more attractive, and thereby to capitalize on the greater challenge that rural schools and the greater degree of initiative demanded in one-room schools.

Rural teachers are to be commended for the first-rate job they are doing in spite of poor accommodation in some areas. It would be to the credit of parents if more of them regarded welfare of the teacher as a matter of privilege and duty. Showing appreciation reaps a double reward. It gives teachers a greater incentive to do a better job, and it gives children an opportunity to benefit from that better job. —Gananoo Reporter.

TAXING BY ADMINISTRATIVE LAW

After years of finagling, the Dominion income-tax people have got established a capital gains tax. That is, unless higher courts or parliament rule otherwise.

It seems that a salaried man got fooling around with real estate and, by luck or skill, made himself $61,000 on the side. The bra boy from Ottawa ruled that this fooling around put him in the business of buying and selling real estate. The poor fellow likely had been going around in a dream, thinking that he had made a mere, though substantial, gain in capital.

There was another case recently where a man was deemed taxable on his race-track winnings. But the news report indicated that the man in horses and betting on them.

In the Canadian tax law there is no mention of capital gains. The tax is on "income," earned by way of salary or business or "unearned" by way of investment. The attempts to tax capital gains have been through the back door. The minister of finance on more than one occasion has denied that there is a capital gains tax. But in successive years the government has sidestepped the demand that the act define income in such a way as to exclude positively the avaricious tax collector's nosing into what for generations has been exempt from taxation as income.

There is a capital gains tax in the United States. But over there, capital losses can be offset. In Canada, there is no way, apparently, that a man who lost $61,000 in real estate (and many a man has) can come out even by making $61,000 in other transactions. The capital gains tax over the border is a maximum of 25 per cent. Here the maximum is the maximum for all income. Over there the payer of income tax can deduct from his total all other tax-exempt federal, state and municipal. This includes taxes on his home, his liquor, his cigarettes, his gasoline, and his amusements. He also may deduct all interest paid on debt. Canada taxes taxes and taxes debt.

In Canada, the clear objective of the tax collector is to take all except grocery bills and carfare. And if, perchance, anyone dies with more than enough to make his widow queen of the poorhouse, the succession duties take savage slices at the estate.

If this decision sticks, and casual and sideline real-estate profits are taxed for taxes, what about the man who phones his broker in the boss's time? There never was a buyer of a stock who didn't hope it would go up in price. Was not everybody rich in the spring of 1929? Even the person who buys a stock as an investment, meanwhile paying tax on the dividends twice over (once through the corporation tax) expects good stocks to rise. For succession-duty purposes the value is fixed on the day of death. Is Ottawa also planning now to collect income tax on the rise of, say, Nickel from its depression low of about $4 to its possible high price in 1952? If so, only Providence can help the widows and orphans. —The Printed Word.

CANADIAN PLOWMEN ABROAD

by V. C. PORTEOUS * Director
ONTARIO PLOWMEN'S ASSOCIATION

Edinburgh, Scotland

In writing about our visit to the land of the Scots I'm sorry I can't report that Herb Jarvis or Hugh Leslie discovered the hiding place of the Stone of Scone. But I think we did discover why the Scotchman living abroad never forgets the home of his ancestors. I am sure it must be because it is a land of so much history and tradition.

Perhaps this sounds like a sweeping statement for our first letter from Scotland, but we have been here nearly a week now. We went first to Glasgow by train from Workington, England, where we had been guests of honor at the Workington and District Agricultural Society banquet. This annual event had been held over on our account which was a great compliment.

We were also guests of the Workington Rotary Club for lunch. Later, at a ceremony presided over by the Lord Mayor, we planted three Canadian maple trees in a spot near the war memorial.

It seems to me that in the years to come these trees will serve as a standing vote of thanks from the many teams of Canadian plowmen who have been so hospitably received here. They will also remind the good people of Workington of the affectionate regard of Canadians for the Mother country.

Before leaving England for Scotland we toured the beautiful Lake district and visited the home of William Wordsworth, the poet — Shades of school days.

In Glasgow we stayed at the first hotel outside of London that had enough heat to satisfy us, although some had meter electric heaters which supply about two hours' heat for a shilling. But for one whose blood has thinned out a little these meter-heaters are not only inconvenient but darn costly. Certainly the people over here are not used to heated buildings such as we have in Canada.

We went down to Kilmarnock to visit the big implement factory there. This was especially interesting for Herb Jarvis, the champion horse plowman because he works in an implement plant in Toronto. After a tour of the plant we had lunch at the famous sea resort of Troon. From there we motored to Ayr and to nearby Alloway, the birthplace of Robert Burns. We inspected the thatched roof cottage where the Plowman Poet had lived and the museum alongside. Then we saw the Brig O'Doon, described by Burns in his poetry.

The city of Ayr is a fair size and has many old but substantial buildings fronting on its narrow, crooked streets. In its shops I noticed that men's clothes are more reasonably priced than at home but other articles are about the same.

It was an interesting motor trip from Ayr to Edinburgh and we passed through some fine farming country. It was rather spotty, however, with many stretches of land fit only for grazing. I think this is because the rock formations here are close to the earth's surface and there are many outcroppings.

Seeing Edinburgh was like reviewing Scottish and English history. We visited Holyroodhouse. It was formerly an abbey and then became the palace of the kings and queens of Scotland and was occupied for a time by the ill-fated Mary, Queen of Scots. Later we visited Edinburgh Castle.

Herbert Jarvis      Hugh Leslie

historic relicts and we were quite taken with the ancient and modern arms and armour on display in the great hall. Some date back to the days of the Roman occupation in the first century of a high order but it seemed to me that the herds are not as fully accredited as they are in Canada. There were about 600 head to be sold in two days and while we were there they were selling at the rate of about 40 head an hour.

We've also visited the Loch Lomond county and "we've taken the high road and the low road" but still feel we haven't seen enough of Scotland. The reason is that we have to stick to our itinerary and now must leave for the North of Ireland international plowing match near Belfast. The boys are well and anxious to pit their talents with the best at the match. The chances are that it will be over and you will know the results before my next letter reaches you. That letter will be the last of the series.

Editor's Note:

Word has been received that Hugh Leslie, of Georgetown, Ontario, the champion Canadian tractor plowman, won the Festival of Britain cup for the best work done in any class by entrants from outside Britain at the international plowing match at Mallusk, near Belfast.

Peace In Our Time

It used to be said, and it is probably still true, that when Britain is at war, Canada is at war.

It may now be taken for granted, in view of joint plans for defence of North America, that when the United States is at war, Canada is at war.

It also seems to be true that when the United Nations are at war, or are carrying out a police job anywhere in the world, Canada is at war.

The outlook for peace-loving Canadians is grim. —The Printed Word.

News For the Busy Farmers

HATCHERY EGGS

For the poultryman with a high quality flock the production of eggs for the use of hatcheries offers decidedly lucrative possibilities as an outlet for the egg crop, says B. F. Tinney, of the Federal Experimental Station at Charlottetown, P.E.I.

To the flock owner who already is taking the precautions necessary to market high quality eggs for table use the additional care in the production of hatchery eggs should not offer any great difficulty.

Many provinces now have breeder and/or hatchery flock policies and the individual hatcheryman, as well, may have his own ideas concerning the type of flock from which he purchases his supply of eggs. Contact the hatcheryman and other authorities necessary to assure that all regulations with respect to type of flock, culling, males, environmental (and particularly sanitary) conditions, blood testing, disease control, etc. are met.

Start feeding a good quality breeder or hatching mash three to six weeks prior to the sale of hatching eggs. Breeder rations are slightly higher in protein than standard laying mashes and contain higher percentages of other ingredients such as wheat germ, milk products, riboflavin, etc., tending to ensure a higher per cent hatch of stronger and more vigorous chicks.

Most hatcherymen ask for an egg of a certain size. Grade to the weight limits required and remove all oversize, misshapen eggs and those with thin shell or rough and poor shell texture.

Provide plenty of clean nests and collect eggs frequently. Dirty eggs are a liability to everyone.

Cool the eggs quickly and pack in crates with the small end down. Careful tests have shown that eggs packed with the large end down lose grade rapidly and a low quality egg is not a good hatching egg.

Hold the eggs in storage at a temperature of 60 degrees to 65 degrees F. and a relative humidity of 75 to 77 per cent.

Marketing frequently. Tests have shown that the percentage hatch decreases with the length of time held in storage. This decrease is rapid if held for periods in excess of seven days.

PITFALLS TO BE AVOIDED IN CHICK REARING

All poultrymen who are anxious to avoid pitfalls in chick rearing should give consideration first and foremost to the source of the chicks, says W. F. Mountain, Head Poultryman, Federal Experimental Station, Harrow.

Unless the chicks are from healthy parent stock and expertly incubated, he warns, good environment later on can be only partly effective in bringing satisfactory results.

Other important things to remember says Mr. Mountain are: a reliable supply of heat; stand in equipment in case of power failure, with spare bulbs and fuses; separation form pens in which adult stock are housed; careful use of drugs with adherence to manufacturers direction; careful observation of the space requirements as the chicks grow, and continuous reference to the many excellent publications offered on this subject. These can be obtained by writing to Information Service, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, Ontario.

ADJUSTMENT OF CLIPPER SEED CLEANER

In a timely warning about the operation and adjustment of clipper type seed cleaning equipment, J. W. White of the Agricultural Engineering Branch of the Federal Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, draws attention to the fact that unless proper screens are selected for the particular type of seed separation desired, the control of all other adjustments is useless.

Providing this proper selection has been made their care should be taken in the adjustment of all other controls provided.

These include adjustments for rate of feed, amount of suction, pitch of screens, brush position, speed of shake, and the amount of air blast.

By following the seed flow through the cleaner and noting the action of the various adjustments more efficient separation will result.

LIQUID FERTILIZER

Liquid fertilizer applied as a seed treatment on wheat, oats, or barley at Federal Experimental Stations in Western Canada has failed to produce significant increases in yields according to information compiled by Dr. P. O. Ripley, Chief of the Field Husbandry Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

The tests were conducted, based on an idea which has been suggested recently, that very small amounts of plant food nutrients dissolved in water, and applied as a seed treatment, may result in substantially increased yields. The idea has not been confirmed by these experiments.

The treatment used was to moisten 10 bushels of grain with one gallon of a 5-10-5 solution of liquid fertilizer. This was compared with a check plot receiving no fertilizer treatment and also with plots receiving 35 to 50 pounds of 11-48-0 commercial fertilizer.

The tests were conducted as 33 different points. These areas centred around the Experimental Stations at Brandon, Morden, and Brandon in Manitoba; Indian Head, Swift Current, and Scott in Saskatchewan; Lethbridge, Lacombe, and Beaverlodge in Alberta; and Agassiz in British Columbia.

At 24 of the test areas the seed treatment either had no effect at all or reduced the yield in comparison with the untreated check. In 5 cases there was a very slight increase of one and a half bushels per acre, and in 4 of the tests there was an increase of from about 3 bushels to, in one case, 10 bushels per acre. In one test at Beaverlodge, wheat moistened with water gave a slightly higher yield than when treated with liquid fertilizer.

It was evident that fertilizer in sufficient amounts was beneficial since in 18 cases where 11-48-0 was applied, substantial increases were obtained. In only three of the test areas was there no increase in yield. It appears, therefore, that the minute amounts of plant food added in the seed treatment do not produce a significantly increased yield.

The use of liquid fertilizers in this way is of doubtful economy and may even result in decreased yields.

Hastings County Farm Forum News

What has I.F.A.P. Accomplished? was the subject under discussion in Farm Forum on Monday, February 19th.

The letters I.F.A.P. stand for International Federation of Agricultural Producers. A farmer in Canada belongs indirectly to I.F.A.P. if he belongs to a local farm organization, which in turn supports the Provincial Federation of Agriculture, or other member body of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture.

"How are the members of your group connected with the C.F.A.?" was one question discussed. Mr. G. E. Brown, reporting for Brook Dale, says their group is connected with C. F. A. through their fully organized Township Federation of Agriculture. Mr. S. Demill, of Melrose Forum, mentions Cheese Producers, Hog Producers, Egg and Poultry Producers and Vegetable Growers as channels through which they are connected with C.F.A.

Earl Sager, Secretary of Hazzards Forum reminds us that the C.F.A. is (or if not, it should be) the parent body of all organized agriculture in Canada. He states that Hog Producers, Cheese Producers, County Federation of Agriculture, Junior Farmers and of course Farm Forums are active in this district.

To the question, "In what ways do you participate in the activities and policy making of the C.F.A.?" Brook Dale and Melrose answer, "By being active members of Farm Forum, which acts in an advisory capacity." Hazzards says "As members of groups mentioned it is our privilege and should be our obligation to take an active part in setting up the policies of those groups and thus of C.F.A." Another very interesting question was, "Do you think I.F.A.P. has any importance to you as a farmer?"

Brook Dale feels that the I.F.A.P. will promote good-will and better understanding between nations and also produce better outlook for markets. Hazzards, to this question replies, "Yes, it has great possibilities. The scope and magnitude of its work will necessitate a very strong organization and a high degree of co-operation and understanding between its members to be successful. The policy of I.F.A.P. is to create unity and understanding between the agricultural organizations of different nations and also an orderly system of marketing and distribution of surplus farm products. Even a small degree of success along this line is of importance to all farmers."

Sprinbrook W.A.

The February meeting of Sprinbrook Woman's Association was held at the home of Mrs. Delbert Fleming. About 40 visitors and members enjoyed a fine dinner.

The regular meeting convened at two o'clock, in charge of the president, with 21 members and a number of visitors. The worship service opened with hymn 45, "My Faith Looks Up To Thee," followed with the theme song and W.A. Prayer. The Scripture Lesson, taken from St. Luke 18: verses 9-16, was read by Rev. H. Beare. This was followed by the Lord's Prayer. Lesson Thoughts were read by Mrs. A. P. Williams. Hymn, "Wonderful Words of Life," closed the worship service.

The business period followed. Roll Call was a donation for Save The Children's Bale. A large box of good used clothing and soap resulted. There were 12 calls and 22 sick cards reported. It was decided to purchase a further supply of cards. A pieced quilt block was to be handed in by the members at the next meeting. Miss E. Peake donated a quilt top to the W.A. The programme was as follows: Mrs. John McKeown gave a paper on "The Kingdom of God;" a reading, "February," was given by Mrs. George Thompson. Mr. Beare described the United Church Seal, as appearing on the new programme. The meeting closed with the benediction.

The dinner netted $11.95. Four fees were paid.

$50,000 Fire Guts

Trenton Church

Ravaged by fire and ruined by smoke and water, the interior of one of Trenton's oldest landmarks, St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, was damaged to the extent of approximately $50,000. Friday night. The flames swept up from the basement, through the choir loft and spread rapidly through partitions and flooring before it was finally brought under control by Trenton firemen.

The $15,000 pipe organ was destroyed, as was the flooring and floor coverings. Thousands of dollars worth of interior decorations, books, and historical treasures were completely wrecked. The fire-fighters were, however, able to save the stained glass memorial windows in the century-old church.

The alarm was sent in a 5.10 p.m.

and Fire Chief Harry Filion called out the entire brigade. Sixteen firemen battled the blaze for more than three and one-half hours before it was extinguished.

The Good Neighbour

Few people have time these days to wear a path between their home and the house next door. Our idea of neighborliness is changing. The back fence of friendly converse, the shady porch of slow confidence, the open door of ready response, all are being crowded out of our streamlined lives.

We have a thousand neighbors, where before we had one. We used to worry about the woman next door who broke her hip, now we worry about our neighbour half a continent or half a world away. A home goes up in flames in Rimouski, the Red River floods out a family in Winnipeg, children flee the birds of war in Korea . . . and these, now, become our neighborly concern.

And, through our Red Cross, we can still extend a helping hand. When we give our energy, our time, our money to our National Society, we know it acts for us. We know it does what we would do if we were there. It may be at the house next door, or a thousand miles away. It may be a visit to a veteran in hospital, or the despatch of half a million dollars worth of aid for a large-scale disaster. It may be welcome to a newcomer or the saving of a mother's life in hospital.

Red Cross translates the countless impulses of friendliness, of generosity and compassion that we all feel, into action. Red Cross is you, being a good neighbor, wherever the need arises. And the need for mercy never ends. Give and give generously to the national appeal this month.

CONSERVATION NEWS ITEMS

ATTENTION MR. SMOKER!

Well it won't be long now until spring days are here again and folks get ready for fishing trips and summer vacations.

The thrill increases when the day comes to load up the car and start the trip north along the highway and finally down the back roads through the woods to the cottage or jumping off the point. Nice also, to have a cigarette when you drive along thinking about the pleasant days ahead and the great times the boys had last summer.

True a little work has to go along with the fun, and a pipe or cigarette tastes pretty good after all the rigging is unloaded, or when you finally get to the other end of a long portage with a canoe on your shoulders.

Far be it from us to deny the solace of a quiet smoke. The parting of the ways comes when Joe Doakes tosses his cigarette butt out the car window, forgets to extinguish his match, or absent mindedly knocks out his pipe on the dry leaves.

For that's the way bush fires start. In 1948, the last year we have figures for, 461 fires were started by careless smokers in Ontario. They burned over an area of 23,318 acres and that means a lot of timber, wildlife and cottage sites not to mention the young growth and topsoil, perhaps the greatest loss of all. In the Quinte District last summer, smokers had the doubtful distinction of causing almost half the fires that occurred — 26 out of 54.

The sad part is that all these fires could have been avoided by following a few simple precautions. As one local Department of Lands and Forests official said in commenting on the fire prevention campaign, — "all credit to the sportsmen who play it safe every summer — it's just that we need more like them!"

Yes a smoke offers much to the man who enjoys it, but it's just plain dynamite in the woods when you forget the precautions. Dry wood will ignite at 700 degrees and an unextinguished cigarette butt generates up to 1200 degrees. That tells the story.

The safety rules are simple. Here they are:

(1) Use the car ash tray. Never throw matches, cigarettes or unextinguished cigar butts out a car window or from an aircraft.

(2) In the woods, sit down for your smoke in a safe place. Don't smoke while walking or working and when you're finished, grind out the butt or pipe ashes on a rock or damp soil, before you leave.

(3) Break your match in two to be sure it's out, but better yet use a lighter.

Contract For Repairing Centre Bridge Awarded J. E. Munro By Council

Control of Flood Waters Discussed At Length At Monday Night's Meeting

Tenders for the recovering of the Centre bridge were opened at the regular meeting of Council on Monday night and that of J. E. Munro, Church St., asking $245 for the job was accepted. Mr. Munro's quotation was the lowest of five tabled. Tenders were also received from F. R. Armstrong & Son, J. V. Holt, Jas. Palmer and Roy Eggleton.

Reeve H. J. Wells presided and he was supported by Councillors Rodgers, Montgomery, West and Elliott.

Mrs. E. T. Ward addressed Council regarding the presence of water in the basement of their business block on Mill St. It was her contention that the condition was caused by water backing up from the municipal drain leading under Mill Street to the Rawdon Creek. During the discussion that followed it was pointed out that the tile under the Highway on North St. was six foot, whereas the drain carrying the water under Mill Street was only four foot. The consensus of Council was that the only solution was the adoption of some scheme to control the water during flood periods. Steps will be taken to try and cope with the situation.

Reeve Wells reported that the flood of surface water was damaging the road on William Street and the members of the streets committee stated they had looked over the situation and planned the installation of suitable drainage to overcome the trouble.

The following accounts were presented for payment:

Ken Morrow, snow removal from streets, $103.45; Bell Telephone, $5.45; Chas. Davidson, sale, $57.40; Dept. of Health, insulin, 98c; F. R. Mallory, $3.30; Sam Bowen, $13.50; J. R. Green, taxi fare, $15.00; J. A. Hamilton, $12.75; Wilson Sinclair, $9.75; Morley Phillips, $48.76; F. McCutcheon, $5.25; Stirling Machine Shop, $3.50; C. B. Rollins, $68.00; A. Hadley, $57.50; C. Tucker & Son, $29.37.

Following the discussion of several minor items of business the Council adjourned to meet again April 2nd.

The Easter Seal Campaign For Crippled Children Now On

My name is Timmy — Timmy of 1951.

I would like to talk to you as the boy I am, and as the spirit I represent.

As a boy I am proud of my Dad, just as a lad of nearly seven should be. Dad often has to lift me up and carry me, because I was born with a gap in my spine. I am paralyzed from the waist down and will be all my life.

As Timmy I personify the reason for the Easter seal campaign for the Ontario Society for Crippled Children. I am proud of that, too.

My real name is Dennis Gibbons. I was born up north in Timmins on May 19th, 1944. Dad was in the Canadian Army then, training at Camp.

I understand that Kenneth Gibbons was a very chesty para-trooper when he received the first telegram saying that he was the father of a son who weighed nine pounds, five ounces.

A couple of days later, though, he had to ask for special leave and rush all the way to Timmins. They'd found a sort of bulb in my back, big as a five-cent piece, a spina bifida, it's called. I wasn't supposed to live for long.

Everything went wrong for all of us in the next month.

Dad returned to Shilo to complete his course and take a final test jump at night. He broke his own back.

Mother had to return to the hospital for an operation.

Dad's brother, my uncle Donald, was killed in France.

Grandma had a stroke soon after she received the news.

Mother says she doesn't know how she could have made out if it hadn't been for her friends up North.

Dad says, "Any time you want to talk about our troubles then you should first ask for a week off. Better still, skip it."

Today, you see, we are a very happy family.

Dad recovered from his back injury though mine will never be right. We've moved from Timmins to Welland where Dad works in the steel plant. I have a kid brother, Donnie, age three, and we play together after school. He isn't old enough for school yet, but I am, and I can get there and back home every school day without trouble for the Rotary Club in Welland provides the car.

When we lived in Timmins, Dad was a diamond driller and a construction foreman and he loved to hunt. He has killed more bears than there are in the whole North. This is because I coax him into telling me a hunting story every night at bedtime.

It's a game between Dad and I. Other boys play their games and I watch them from our living room window. I also like to listen to the phonograph records and to sing. I want to study music some day. I paint and draw and make all sorts of models with plasticine.

People say I'm smart, yet when I was four I couldn't even crawl. Then our doctor interested some friend. I was sent to the Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto, fitted with leg braces, and I've learned how to get about on crutches. I needed an operation, and that was made possible, too.

Once a year for some years I will have to go back to the hospital for a check-up.

When I go I will salute the Ontario Society for Crippled Children.

Dad tells me that when he came back home from the army after the war mother had taught me how to whip up a real salute.

He returned the salute, says mother, and he hugged me and called me a real soldier, but you'd have to ask him just how he felt. I couldn't understand.

And I was too young to remember anyways.

As Timmy of 1951, may I salute you and all the many other good friends of the Ontario Society for Crippled Children everywhere. For lifetime we will remember you as you return the salute.

"Club Night" Held By County Junior Farmers

The world needs better citizens' was the reason given for more emphasis on boys' and girls' clubs in Ontario. This was expressed by David Adams, Assistant Agricultural Representative from Carleton County, when he addressed club members of Hastings County, their parents, and friends, at the "Club Night" held in the Community Hall, Stirling, on Wednesday, February 28th. Mr. Adams explained how club work in Carleton County was being expanded. He stated that it was necessary to give to as many boys and girls as possible the experience of club work, by so doing, these boys and girls would become more familiar with better farming practices, community spirited, and more Provincial minded.

Mr. Carl Bateman, Stirling, President of the Hastings County Club Leaders' Association, was chairman. Carl welcomed the boys and girls and their parents.

An interesting feature of the evening was the showing of a film by Miss Alma Moorcroft, of Cooper. The film was taken of the Hastings County Junior Farmer Livestock Judging Competition in 1950.

One hundred and seven boys and girls received crests for completing the club project in which they were enrolled. The crest was based on the Canadian Council of Boys' and Girls' Club Work emblem.

Douglas Morton of R.R. 2, Campbellford, was presented with the James Haggerty Memorial Trophy for being the high calf club member in Hastings County for 1950. Recognition was also given to Robert Mallory, of R.R. 7, Trenton, for being the outstanding all-round club member in the County for the year. Bob was first in the Belleville Calf Club, first in the South Hastings Grain Club, he was active in all phases of his Club work, and his cooperation was considered to be excellent.

Among other speakers of the evening was Mr. A. O. Dalrymple, Agricultural Representative for Hastings County, who reviewed the past year's work by showing pictures of the various events. He expressed a warm welcome for all interested in joining the 1951 clubs. Mr. Frank Stone, Assistant Agricultural Representative for Hastings, outlined the projects which were being organized for the coming year. These included thirteen clubs in all, which are: seven calf clubs, two grain clubs, two forestry clubs, a tractor club and a poultry club.

Mr. Dalrymple expressed appreciation to the County Council for the Junior Grant, and to the County Agricultural Societies for sponsoring the club projects in the community.

Mr. John McComb, a member of the Belleville Calf Club, expressed, on behalf of the club members, their appreciation for the leadership from the Proving that he can look the part as well as speak the lines, here is radio actor Frank Peddie made up as Mr. Colin Glencannon, "the biggest, drunkest, fighting blackguard in either steam or sail, on any ocean." As the notorious chief engineer of the S.S. Inglefield Castel, Peddie has the star role in a radio series compiled by Tommy Tweed from the "Mr. Glencannon" stories of Guy Gilpatric, being broadcast every Tuesday night at 8.30 on the CBC Trans-Canada network.

Club Leaders, the Agricultural Representative, and the Assistant.

The evening was brought to a close with a lunch of sandwiches, cake and coffee being served.

What Others Say!

SHORTER HOURS

Shorter hours with longer pay seems to be the ambition of a good many Canadians these days — We think the 40-hour week is a good idea — but only as an idea. Canada became the great nation it is because the pioneers knew how to work and were satisfied to put in long hours of strenuous labor. Our nation is still a pioneer country. —Granby (Que.) Leader-Mail.

CHARITY BEGINS AT HOME

(Renfrew Mercury)

All too often talented people from far-away places are brought into towns and feted for their success, while in many instances local citizens have been born educated and been successful in their own home towns, yet are passed lightly by without any recognition.

The song "Dear Hearts and Gentle People" could often be sung about local citizens. The town that prospers is the town that produces worthwhile citizens, and features these individuals, rather than outsiders.

If a town can produce and keep successful citizens in their midst, this alone is sufficient enticement to draw others to reside in their midst.

In many instances high-salaried personnel managers and others are brought into towns to fill positions of importance that might well be filled by local citizens at less salary and who are already paying taxes and contributing toward the upkeep of the town.

HOW TO SAVE MONEY AND EAT WELL

Don't we all love advice on how to make food dollars go further. A dandy was contained in the envelope bearing the February Family Allowance cheques. Indeed it was a brochure that must have read with avidity by nearly everyone lucky enough to be able to "cash in" on a family these days.

The first page contained some valuable tips on how to get the best value for your food dollar. Here it is: "Plan meals ahead... to be sure to have... milk, fruits, vegetables, cereals, meat, fish, eggs or cheese... plus 400 International units of Vitamin D for every child every day."

We can readily understand the necessity of meat and vegetables. But who gives a heck for International units — whatever the animal is. It doesn't sound as if it would taste good.

The next page contained some more advice such as: "Dollars go further when you... do your own baking, buy standard quality canned goods, make your own relishes and salad dressings, supplement whole milk with skim milk, fluid or powdered, use Grade B eggs for baking, serve fish, eggs, cheese, beans, liver, kidney, heart or tongue instead of roasts and chops."

"Brother! Isn't that something? The wonder is that most of us hadn't thought of it before. Isn't it wonderful that we have a government agency to figure out these difficult problems?

Here is some more advice: "Food value is greater if you use whole-grained bread (more vitamins and minerals), milk, vegetables and fruit are kept in a cool place, meat is cooked slowly to avoid shrinkage, vegetables are served raw or cooked quickly in very little water and served immediately."

From such valuable information, it looks as if we shall have to send our wives and mothers to Ottawa to learn the modern art of cooking. An apprenticeship of centuries is apparently a little behind the times.

But what we started out to say was that we have seen some particularly fatuous things in our lifetime. But we could not decide in which category to place the wonderful advice we received. Wonder whose brain thunk that one up? —Carleton-Place Canadian.

RECEIVING A BILL

Receiving a bill in the mail is something which is rather disliked by many people. But there is another side to it as is set forth here from a contemporary:

"It is an honor to receive a bill. Instead of getting all riled up when the mail brings you a statement of account, you should be genuinely pleased. For the bill is an indication that someone has faith in your honesty.

"If you never receive a bill, it would indicate that your credit is worthless and think no one is willing to take your word that you will pay.

"Credit is the most valuable thing a person can have. Money may be had by various means, but credit comes only from years of honesty and prompt meeting of bills when due. When you pay a bill, you are merely being honest.

"When you receive a bill, meet it if you possibly can. If you can't, frankly tell your creditor why you cannot. You will find him more than ready to meet you halfway.

"Cherish your credit as you do your health, happiness, and other priceless boons equally rare and elusive."

Flashing Blue Light Carried By Plow

Motorists on wintry roads in the future who see a flashing blue light mounted on a truck will know they are looking at a highway department snowplow or sander. Highways Minister Doucet said recently.

Use of the flashing light, strong enough to penetrate the snow mist usually shrouding a snowplow in action, has been decided on following a conference of the Ontario Motor League, provincial truck and bus associations, provincial police and the highways department.

St. Paul's-Carmel

Items of Interest

(By Rev. A. E. Baker, U.E.)

The St. Paul's-Carmel congregations join in extending a cordial welcome to Rev. and Mrs. H. C. Secker and family to Stirling and pray God's blessing upon them and their work at St. John's and constituency.

March is a focal month in our Church Work. Every member and friend is challenged to participate as far as possible in our program which includes:

(1) The Confirmation Classes every Sunday until March 18th at Carmel, 2 p.m.; St. Paul's, 4 p.m. The prayer interest of parents, teachers and members is asked for these young people.

(2) The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed on Quarter Day March 11th. Every member is expected to be present except the sick and invalid. It is a matter of concern to the Session that some members of the Church appear indifferent to the Lord's command "This do in remembrance of Me." Open communion is our practice and all who sincerely love the Lord Jesus Christ are invited to His table. The words "Thomas was not there when Jesus came" ought to be interpreted by every member.

(3) Palm Sunday, March 18th will be marked by a special evening service at St. Paul's when the choir will interpret the Sacred Cantata, "Pentecost, Pardon and Peace." Do not miss this service.

(4) Holy Week Services on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, March 19th, 20th, 21st and 22nd at 8 p.m. at St. Paul's. These services will be about one hour in length and should challenge the interest of all Christians, especially members and adherents of the United Church.

The Monday service will be followed by a congregational meeting to fill vacancies on the Trustee Board, Session and Committee of Stewards.

The Tuesday meeting includes a special invitation to all members of the W.M.A. and W.A. to be present.

The Wednesday meeting will include the Young Married's and their guests, the Young Adults of Carmel, and local spinsters and bachelors. It will be followed by a fraternal fellowship of St. Paul's and Carmel in the Sunday School Hall. It is hoped to have a guest choir also present for this service.

The Thursday meeting calls for a full muster of St. Paul's choir, the Official Board, Trustees and all Sunday School Teachers and officials.

On good Friday St. Paul's morning service will open at 10:30 a.m. It will include the Rite of Confirmation and the Lord's Supper. This service should find every parent and friend of boys and girls at the church. On Good Friday afternoon a special choral broadcast from St. Paul's will be given over C.J.B.Q. at 2 p.m.

(5) Easter Day. Great services to mark this "high" day will be held. The Royal Choir will interpret "The Resurrection Morn" at the hour of evening praise and prayer.

In order that our church may be enhanced in Easter glory it would be appreciated if every family would place an Easter lily in the Church. These may be taken home after the evening service or left for the sick and shut-ins. Cut flowers and flowering plants will also be made welcome. Some may be able to gather pussy willows.

Lenten Self Denial envelopes may be returned any Sunday in Lent or during Holy Week. The large envelope with your glad Easter Thank-Offering should be returned on Easter Day.

Let us each pray, practice and give to make March 1951 a notable one in the history of our churches.

We hope that gifts will be so generous as to hearten our officials in the matter of a new floor for the Sunday School Hall at St. Paul's and the renovation of the Carmel Church.

The Annual Report for 1950 Silver Jubilee Year has now been distributed. Please advise if you did not receive your copy. While all support of the church is voluntary and everyone does not give in the same way the absence of many names that count St. Paul's as their home church should be a matter of concern to those affected as well as the Stewards. Then too, some of those who are recorded may feel that their circumstances easily justify larger gifts for the church.

The matter can be remedied by telephoning for a box of envelopes to Mr. Fred Bateman, and regularly setting apart a gift for God's work at home and abroad each week. The splendid response of those who gave as the Lord had blessed them has made possible a resident minister and a church and Sunday School open to all.

This writer understands that no canvas for funds is made by the Stewards of St. Paul's except for major or very special needs. Please do not wait for someone to call upon you. Your gift is doubly blessed when it comes unsolicited. The Church is yours — use it.

The average attendance at St. Paul's Sunday School during 1950 was 74. The cost of supplies was $165.67 or 4½ cents per pupil attending each Sunday. Other expenses included Missionary and Maintenance Fund, $1.00, plus Rally Day, $26.03; Mother's Day, $8.01; Christmas Concert, $25.00; Manitoba Relief, $5.00; Gifts, $24.35, making a total of $188.99 or a cost of a little over five cents per pupil per Sunday. Thus our Sunday School cost us in 1950 about 9½ cents per pupil weekly to operate. Since many pupils give less than this amount here again the strong carry the weak or in some cases the "payers" the "non-payers."

The Sunday School at St. Paul's is carrying on the fine work directed by Mr. J. L. Good for many years, now under the leadership of Mr. Harold Hagerman. Mr. Geo. Carlisle is the Associate Supt. and Mr. Jack Potter the Secretary-Treasurer. These are supported by a splendid teaching staff.

Parents are invited to co-operate in promoting the attendance of every boy and girl in the home and community and in securing the maximum degree of regularity. Let it be every member at Sunday School, every Sunday with a prepared lesson.

Ross Carlisle received the Royal Choir February award for loyalty to the choir. He enquired when sickness threatened his absence "but who would take my place if I were not there?"

This devotion might prick the conscience of some adults. "What kind of a church would my church be, if every member were just like me?"

Who's Who!

To the boom of cannon and the noise of fire crackers and horns the woman who has made or supervised the making of more coffee than any woman in Stirling was born to Isaac McCaughey and his wife Ellen Montgomery, of the Ridge Road, Rawdon Township. It was the twenty-fourth of May and natural that she should be called after "Victoria the Good" whom she resembles in many ways. So Ann Victoria began her journey down the fascinating road of life.

Her partner of nearly 50 years was born in the house where he still resides on Henry St. His father's Christian names were Brinton Roscoe, his grandfather's Uriel, and his great grandfather's Anson. A Canadian of the fourth generation, he has been a general handyman, clerk, liveryman, painter, builder and for 17 years associate funeral director (in the days when undertakers wore plug hats). Like his father, he is an office bearer in the church and a faithful, informed worshipper. He has the bearing of an English gentleman, a trait which is attributable to his ancestry. Apart from his church this home-loving citizen is a sustaining member of the "Chosen Friends."

This native of Stirling attended the Charlotte St. School in the days when a leather strap with "cat tails" was used with such effectiveness that it is still an abiding impression in the garden of memory. He recalls in those days his father drove the Methodist minister to the several churches on the circuit plan. He has one brother Roscoe, and likewise his wife has one brother Thomas. Both are long residents of Stirling.

This happy couple who live in a house that is an island home often than any other house in the village were childhood playmates attending the same school. It was there says this woman whose Irish ancestry is manifest in a natural wit "that the trouble began" adding "if you call it trouble," with an infectious chuckle.

They were married November 18th, 1903 by the Rev. Burns, the Presbyterian Minister of Foxboro, and lived happily ever after. They have no children and it is a matter of sincere regret that the generations of a race of men who were always "Wright" should come to an end.

Like his possible namesake Sir Guy Carleton, the gallant British soldier and successful administrator, Carleton Guy Wright believes in progress and is in the forefront of all necessary community improvements. Due to a recent painful injury visitors enjoy the double pleasure of sharing with the "Victoria" who was never crowned and the gallant "Carleton" who was never knighted, the friendly atmosphere of "Wright House" down by the Old Mill Stream and the "fourth" bridge of Stirling. Mr. Wright was born on April 3rd.

The Stirling Festival of Sacred Praise will not in any way interfere with Cubs going to their "Curbarée" as their classes will be held early in the day.

It is a matter of interest that the 80th Wolf Cub Pack of Toronto scored first place in the great Kiwanis Festival. Cubs and Brownies are establishing choirs in many centres as their leaders realize the great value of music and song.

Mrs. Warren Preston and Mr. and Mrs. W. Elliott were warmly welcomed at Sunday School and Church last Sunday on their return from a vacation in Florida.

Mrs. George Heasman was the tuneful soloist in the anthem, "Still, Still With Thee" by Oley Speaks. Her rich contralto voice will find many opportunities in choir and solo work. Mr. Jack Bush, tenor, sang "Creations Hymn" by Beethoven. This promising tenor is one of a fine tenor section at St. Paul's. The guest soloist last Sunday was Mr. Ross Metcalfe, of Maple Grove, a talented artist who sang "He Smiled On Me," by Geoffrey O'Hara and "Comfort Ye My People" from Handel's Messiah.

Mr. Metcalfe was awarded honours in the recent vocal examination for Grade IX Royal Conservatory. His presence and ministry was a treat and inspiration of all who heard him.

So had most of the 65,000 odd drivers who got into accidents in Ontario last year. Next time we feel like giving some other driver a piece of our mind, we're going to stop, count ten, and remember the last time we pulled a stupid one on the road with our own car. 'Let him... cast the first stone...' You won't get away with inconsiderate driving every time.

CANADIAN PLOWMEN ABROAD

by V. C. PORTEOUS ★ Director
ONTARIO PLOWMEN'S ASSOCIATION

Belfast, Northern Ireland

If everything went smoothly here with never a hitch of any kind then I suppose this wouldn't be Ireland. Being of Irish descent I can say this without having to duck . . . or at least I hope so.

We came over to Belfast from Scotland by boat but because of some misunderstanding about our itinerary the welcoming committee met a different pier. As a result we had to make our way to the hotel unescorted. However, once we were installed in the hotel a few telephone calls got things untangled, although the welcoming committee — complete with band — had been waiting over an hour. For the rest of our stay in the "Emerald Isle" we managed to keep to schedule without any major upsets.

About the first thing we learned upon arrival was that the maple tree planted in front of the city hall by Alex McKinney, of Brampton, last year's team manager, had died. Accordingly, and with due ceremony, we planted a new one but this time it was an eight foot tree instead of a sapling. The tree was made available by the Ontario Horticulture Association through the Imperial War Graves Commission. Later we figured amongst ourselves that as the new tree was planted in the right phase of the moon it should survive. If it doesn't, then all the Irish legends about the growing powers of the moon must be revised.

The next day, which was Saturday, we attended a local plowing match at Killead. It was on the farm owned by Bobbie Irwin, who, many of you will remember, was one of the overseas contestants at our 1948 International match at Lindsay. It was good to see Bobbie again and he asked to be remembered to all his friends in Canada.

Sunday we drove to Portrush for lunch. We returned to Belfast by what is called the East Shore road. We passed through the Glen district which even at this time of the year is beautiful. In summer it must be beautiful beyond description.

Monday we toured the busy city of Belfast, which in many respects is much like a Canadian city. At night we were guests at a dance which the boys, and I'll admit myself as well, enjoyed very much. But we didn't stay too late because the boys had to practice the next day for the big Northern Ireland match.

It was perfect plowing weather for the match and about 15,000 spectators and contestants were on hand. Taking all in all it was a good match and the North Ireland Plowing Association, sponsors of the match, deserve a lot of credit.

Herb Jarvis had trouble with his team of horses, although they went nicely the day of the practice. But once they got in the crowd they wouldn't respond and as a result Herb lost ground which he wasn't able to pick up again.

Hugh Leslie, the tractor champion, made a good start which he managed to maintain with the result that he won the Festival of Britain cup. This was for the highest standing among overseas competitors, of which there were about 19, including some from Switzerland, England and Scotland. In case you wonder why the last two countries are classed as overseas I might remind you that there is still the Irish Sea.

Hugh's win means that each of the boys has won a trophy. Herb won in the overseas class at Cornwall which I mentioned in an earlier letter.

The following day we resumed our sightseeing and visited one of the largest cordage plants in the world. It was a revelation to see what goes into the manufacture of binder twine and rope.

Later we attended a conference to discuss the possibility of setting up standard rules governing plowing at international matches. There were representatives from most of the plowmen groups in the United Kingdom, but I am sorry to report that we did not arrive at any unanimous decisions.

However, the meeting was a beginning and my feeling is that Canada should take the lead in this matter as there seems to be too much rivalry between the groups over there. I'll deal more fully with this subject in the future at meetings of our own organization.

This weekend I left the boys for the first time since we started out together more than six weeks ago. I went up to Enniskillen in County Fermanagh to the home of my ancestors. I was successful in locating the very ground that my great-grandfather farmed. When I examined the land I wasn't in the least surprised that my grandfather's family left it for Canada. I suppose many Canadians feel the same way when they catch the first glimpse of their ancestral homes in these Isles. The broad acres of Canada have a way of spoiling us.

We are now leaving for Scotland where we will take the plane from Prestwick to fly to Canada. The chances are that by the time you read this we will be home. We've covered a lot of territory, met a lot of people and enjoyed every minute of it but just now home seems to be about the most important place there is in this world. And now, for the boys and myself I'll say good-bye and I hope we'll all meet at the 1951 International Plowing Match at Woodstock.

WHEN ARE APPLES BEYOND STORAGE LIFE?

Cold storage of apples comes in for considerable criticism by consumers, particularly at this time of the year. This criticism arises because housewives frequently purchase what appear to be first class apples, only to find that in a very short time they become mealy, rotted and generally unfit to eat.

In most cases these apples have been sold in good faith by the storage operator. On hearing of a complaint he will check up on similar apples still in storage and find that they are in excellent condition from an appearance standpoint. What then is the cause of such rapid deterioration after the fruit is taken out of storage?

The potential storage life of an apple at harvest is somewhat similar to the life of a storage battery — but unlike the battery, apples cannot have their energy restored. The apple in storage is using up its reserve energy all the time. About this time of year apples may have used up 80 per cent or even 95 percent of their reserves. In consequence the five to 20 percent remaining energy is rapidly used up when the fruit is exposed to higher temperatures, causing almost immediate breakdown.

It is important to recognize when apples are approaching this stage of storage life. This can be done with comparative ease, W. R. Phillips and P. A. Poast of the Horticulture Division, Central Experimental Farm, point out. If 25 to 50 apples of a given lot are removed from storage and placed in a room at 65 degrees F. for a week, the condition in which they will reach the consumer can readily be seen. The examination of such fruit should be most critical, looking for internal as well as external disorders.

If this test is made frequently, starting fairly early in storage life, the storage operator will soon be able to forecast the safe marketing period for his apples.

LAW REQUIRES REPORTING CONTAGIOUS ANIMAL ILLS

Referring recently to the efficient control of animal disease, and the resultant protection to human health, in Canada, Dr. T. Childs, Veterinary Director General of the Federal Department of Agriculture, called attention to the responsibility placed, by law, on anyone connected with animals to report the appearance, existence or suspected existence of infectious or contagious disease. Dr. Childs quoted the Animal Contagious Diseases Act where it refers to the duties of owners of animals.

"The Act," said Dr. Childs, "purses no punches in demanding that owners, breeders and dealers as well as everyone bringing animals into Canada, must immediately report the appearance of infectious or contagious disease among the animals owned by him or under his special care, to the Minister and to the nearest veterinary inspector of the Department of Agriculture.

Dr. Childs also spoke of the similar responsibility of any veterinary surgeon when he recognises infectious or contagious disease in an animal. He added that the statute provides a stiff penalty for anyone guilty of its infraction.

SPRING MANAGEMENT OF THE APIARY

The success of the summer's work with the apiary depends largely upon the management given at the first of the season, says E. D. Craig — Apiarist at the Dominion Experimental Station, Kentville, N.S. All colonies should be examined the first warm day in the spring. Unless each colony has at least fifteen pounds of honey they should be fed. Combs of honey held over from the previous fall crop simplifies the work of feeding. If any disease was present in the colonies the previous season, the colonies should be fed sugar syrup, consisting of one part sugar and one of water. The syrup is fed in a ten pound friction-top tin, which has about thirty holes pierced in the cover. The tin of syrup is inverted over the frames, an empty super is placed on the brood chamber and the hive cover is placed on the super.

On the first examination make sure that each colony has a fertile queen, indicated by capped brood which is flat. (The brood of a drone laying or infertile queen will be raised). All Queenless and weak colonies should be united to ones of medium strength. Colonies which have drone laying queens should have the queen destroyed previous to uniting them with queenright colonies.

When an apiary has been established, a few two-pound queenless packages of bees can often be used to advantage to strengthen weak colonies. Strengthening weak colonies in this way will often more than pay for the price of bees in the extra production of honey.

Colonies that are wintered in the cellar are generally placed on the summer stand about the first week in April. At this time of year the bees are subjected to sudden changes in temperature, and unless the colonies are exceptionally strong, they may be affected by such changes to the extent that brood-rearing will be retarded, and quite often brood will be chilled. It is therefore advisable that such colonies should be protected, even if only by a wrapping of waterproof paper over the hives.

Colonies that are packed in the fall in outside winter cases should not be removed from the cases until the latter part of May in the Maritimes.

The profit derived from any apiary will depend largely on the condition the bees are in when the main honey flow starts, Mr. Craig concludes. Each colony therefore, should have a prolific queen, sufficient room for expansion and an abundance of stores during the build-up period.

January Hydro Load Summary

Contrary to the usual seasonal decline, primary power demands soared to new record highs during January on all three of the Commission's systems. This was revealed by Ontario Hydro's load summary for the month.

The unprecedented rate of load growth was seen to reflect the highly accelerated production of essential materials for the United Nations' forces, as well as the phenomenal industrial growth and greater domestic, commercial and rural demands for power.

In the Southern Ontario System during a maximum 29-minute peak, primary demands registered a new record of 2,362,030 kilowatts, a 17.4 percent increase over the previous year's figure of 2,001,246 kilowatts. The Thunder Bay System primary demand for the month was 182,646 kilowatts as compared with 164,056 kilowatts for January, 1950, or an increase of 11.3 percent. Likewise the Northern Ontario Properties showed an increase of 19.5 percent over a corresponding period last year, with 253,519 kilowatts as against 212,426 kilowatts.

Total power generated and purchased by the Commission during January, 1951, also remained high for all three systems. The total of 2,204,700 kilowatts generated and purchased for distribution and sale in the Southern Ontario System advanced 19 percent over the January, 1950 output of 1,852,600 kilowatts.

An increase of 32 percent is represented in the total of 233,640 kilowatts in January of this year for the Thunder Bay System as compared with 169,485 kilowatts recorded for the corresponding period in the previous year.

A new record of 281,574 kilowatts was reported for the power generated and purchased for distribution and sale in the Northern Ontario Properties in January, 1951. This was an increase of 30.4 percent over the 215,880 kilowatts for January, 1950.

Prince Edward Factories To Make Cheese In Blocks

Five factories in Prince Edward this season will package part of their cheese in a new way. Manufactured as cheddar cheese, it will be made in square blocks of around forty pounds each. It is being sold to the Kraft Company which will repack it for resale.

Cheese factories who will inaugurate this end.

In addition to previously announced plans, such as a $2,000,000 immediate grant toward the new cancer centre at Wellesley Hospital in Toronto, the Premier announced other innovations.

The world's oldest town, Cadiz, in Spain, has maintained its identity and name for about 3,000 years.

the new method in this district are those at Weller's Bay, Royal Street, Black River Bridge, Ben Gill and U.E.L. at Dorland.

Marketing in this way will mean added revenue for factory patrons. It eliminates expenses of boxes, since containers are used over again. Cheese in the large size usually shrinks in weight, but this smaller size is immediately weighed and sold at that weight. It eliminates bandaging and requires less handling. It is sealed in poly-film a cellophane-like wrapping.

This cheese, in squares instead of round, is easily cut for packaging in different sizes by the Kraft Company.

New type packaging of cheese is assisting in increasing consumption on the home market.

Province Offers Grants To Build Homes For Aged

Grants of $1,000 per bed to religious and fraternal orders for the construction of homes for the aged were announced yesterday by Premier Frost as one of several new plans to expand the province's co-operation with municipalities and other agencies engaged in the field of welfare. Each step of this widening program was reflected in provisions in his budget to achieve this end.

In addition to previously announced plans, such as a $2,000,000 immediate grant toward the new cancer centre at Wellesley Hospital in Toronto, the Premier announced other innovations.

The world's oldest town, Cadiz, in Spain, has maintained its identity and name for about 3,000 years.

The Peterborough Brinton's beat Campbellford 3-1 at Hastings Monday night to open their TVL hockey play-off series before 700 fans. It was staged on soft ice. Lawson and Eakins shone up front for the winners and Herrington, Mason and Robinson stood out for the other side, both goalies going well. Black was out with an injury and McCaig was out for a time with an old injury.

Lawson scored twice in the first frame, aided once by Eakins. After a scoreless second chukker, Eakins made it 3-0 in the third, but Mason tallied then from Robinson for the Campbellford squad. There were eight penalties, each side drawing four.

The pupils of the School delighted with a number of selections throughout the evening under the direction of their music teacher, Miss Grace Plithan, A.T.C.M., who accompanied them on the piano.

The school teacher, Mrs. Alice Coombes, gave a series of pictures on "The Conservation of the Soil," "The Swiftest Doesn't Always Win," "The Early Settler," and a humorous film of particular delight to the children in the audience. The special guest artist, Mr. Ross Metcalfe, of Maple Grove, near Bowmanville, delighted with musical selections on the piano, vocal selections with his mother, Mrs. Roy Metcalfe as accompanist, harmonica selections and a comedy number in costume, "Down On The Farm."

The ladies served sandwiches, cookies, tarts and fruit salads and everyone enjoyed this delightful evening of entertainment. A vote of thanks was tendered the guest artists, the pupils and teacher, programme and lunch committee and all who had a share in making the social affair a success.

Free Textbooks For School Pupils

(Free school books for the pupils of all Ontario elementary schools was announced Tuesday by Premier Frost during an outline of his government's educational program for 1951. The province will spend $63,000,000 on education, an increase of more than $6,000,000 over 1950.

Local school boards will purchase from local dealers the books their pupils need, Mr. Frost said, and will be reimbursed up to $3 for every child in grades I to VIII.

There were two reasons for this step, the premier explained: To hasten the use of recently chosen approved books in the new curriculum now being adopted by the schools, and to lighten the burden on parents during a period of rising living costs.

To meet this increased sharing of education costs, the province had budgeted a sum of $2,000,000. Mr. Frost said, though he explained that this was only one further step in the policy adopted eight years ago of Ontario accepting an increased portion of school expenditures.

"The decision to provide free school books marks a distinct advance in the efforts of this government to make educational facilities available to the children of the province at no cost to the parents," said Mr. Frost. "The government is determined to let no obstacle stand in the way of the children enjoying every advantage that our educational institutions can offer. This innovation will be unhampered by any strings or conditions."

The premier said that to avoid affecting the economic position of hundreds of stationery and other stores it was the plan of the government that local boards would purchase their needs in books from the stores that had sold them in the past, then billing the province. In this way no dislocation of local economies would be caused.

Entered Into Rest

LATE THOMAS W. BURNETT

Old friends at Ivanhoe will regret to learn of the sudden death of Thomas Walter Burnett, son of the late Adam Burnett and Mary Tanner Burnett. He was born in Huntingdon Township on December 19th, 1885. He went with his family to Manitoba in 1900 and settled on a farm three miles southwest of Sperling.

Mr. Burnett was vitally interested in the affairs of the community. He served on Tremont School Board 29 years and was for many years a member of the Trustee Board of Sperling Rink. He was an enthusiastic curler and was assisting in preparation for Sperling bonspiel on the morning that death came so suddenly. He was a past president of the Curling Club and served for many years on the executive. He was a faithful member of the Loyal Orange Association for 47 years. There were over 60 members of the Order present at his funeral to pay their tribute of respect.

The funeral held in Sperling United Church was crowded beyond capacity. The service was conducted by Rev. J. W. Crulckshank, who paid warm tribute to the kindly, neighborly and friendly character of Mr. Burnett. Floral tributes were abundant, beautiful and lovely, bearing their mute tribute to the esteem in which Tom Burnett was held by his many friends and neighbors.

Highlights of Premier Frost's budget speech Tuesday in the Ontario Legislature:

Surplus of $1,276,000 on ordinary account for the fiscal year ending March 31, compared with estimate of $166,030 a year ago. Surplus of $59,000 for new fiscal year, containing unbroken round of surpluses by Mr. Frost since he became provincial treasurer eight years ago.

Payment of $21,698,000 into sinking funds for debt retirement, $14,500,000 more than estimated, bringing total sinking funds of province to $90,850,000.

Members of Stirling Lodge, No. 69 Entertained Ladies At Banquet

Rev. Duncan McTavish, of Bridge St. United Church,
Belleville, Guest Speaker

The annual Ladies Night and "At Home" of Stirling Lodge, A.F. & A.M. No. 69, G.R.C., was held in the Stirling Community Hall, on Thursday evening last, when some one hundred and fifty were present to enjoy a bountiful banquet followed by a splendid programme.

The hall was artistically decorated while the tables were adorned with bouquets of snapdragons, tulips and daffodils. Grace was said by Rev. H. C. Secker, rector of St. John's Church.

A true spirit of hospitality prevailed and the tables were heavily laden with all that could be desired by even the most critical appetite. The serving was attended to by Mrs. Harold Morgan and her assistants and many fine compliments were heard on their work.

Wor. Bro. C. I. Hatton filled the position of Master of Ceremonies and carried out his duties in an acceptable manner. After the toast to "The King and Craft," Miss Beverley Buck, of Belleville, favoured with two solos, accompanied by Mrs. I. Miller.

A note of merriment was introduced when after Bro. Geo. Crown had paid eloquent tribute to the pastmasters of Stirling Lodge, Wor. Bro. Hatton called a number of them to the head table and presented each with a balloon.

The toast to "The Ladies" was proposed by Wor. Bro. H. R. Tompkins and ably responded to by Mrs. J. L. Good, who expressed the appreciation of the ladies for the splendid evening's entertainment provided.

Wor. Bro. P. C. McGuire, of Belleville, a member of Stirling Lodge, was called on to introduce the guest speaker, Rev. Duncan McTavish, of Bridge St. United Church, Belleville, whose address was full of wit and wisdom. He spoke on "the measure of a man" and was listened to with rapt attention by the large gathering.

He stated that a man could not be measured by his weight, his height, nor by his intellect. It was a great thing to have a keen intellect, but some of the blackest pages in history have been written by men of keen intellect.

Worldly possessions were not a standard by which to judge a man, stated Mr. McTavish. Too much emphasis can be placed on good clothes and material wealth. You can't measure a man by the economic or social measure.

The true standard by which to judge a man is by his faith in God, stated Mr. McTavish. Without faith the whole fabric of civilization goes to ruin. The man who found victory upon the cross was the only true standard by which to measure a man, he concluded.

Wor. Dr. E. A. Carleton thanked the speaker, after which Mrs. Walter

St. John's Ladies' League

After the business part of the meeting the President welcomed Mr. Secker and called on him for a few remarks. The programme consisted of a Citizenship Forum on "Can We Feed the World's Great Population?" This was very interesting and was discussed afterwards. Readings were given by Mrs. Villertote, "St. Patrick's Day," and Mrs. Cherry on "The Origin of the Harp." A contest was put on by Mrs. Woodbeck, "Business Men in Stirling."

Lunch was served by Mrs. Woodbeck, Mrs. Villertote, Mrs. Tanner, Mrs. Mumby and Mrs. Morgan.

Mrs. Ray Mallory thanked Mrs. Woodbeck and committee for a delightful evening.

Warren delighted with a solo, accompanied by Mrs. Harry Morrow.

The schools built and owned by the government are managed and supplied with staff by the Woman's Missionary Society. The Schools which accommodate nearly one hundred and fifty children each, are located, one in Manitoba at Birtle; the other, the Cecilia Jeffrey Indian School at Kenora, Ontario.

Our work among the Chinese of Canada is most encouraging. More and more are these people accepting responsibility in leadership and financing. All the Chinese congregations now contribute to the Budget of our Church, to the Minister's Stipend and to our Woman's Missionary Society.

Work among the French in Canada, the Italians in Canada, the Ukrainians in Canada and the Hungarians in Canada each has the same story to tell. It is obvious from the reports of all the present workers that more and more workers are needed in both fields of our Church's work. The opportunity is great among both the Canadian born and those who without a homeland have come to this land to make it theirs. What are we going to do about it? Are Canadian Presbyterians going to accept the opportunity offered to them? We have a great responsibility and the "Time is Now."

Mrs. L. Rodgers closed the meeting with prayer.

Mrs. E. Foster, Mrs. Don Rodgers and Mrs. Eggleton served a delightful afternoon tea. Mrs. R. Eggleton expressed her gratitude to her helpers and to those who had helped with the programme. Mrs. Ken Ray on behalf of the members thanked the hostess and her assistants for the most helpful meeting.

St. Paul's-Carmel

Items of Interest

(By Rev. A. E. Baker, U.E.)

We remind all readers of the many opportunities to support worthy causes that crowd these pre-Easter days.

Lenten Self-Denial and Easter Thank-Offering gifts. We are informed that the new United Church in the suburban village of Long Branch has been made possible by Lenten Self-Denial and Easter Thank-Offering gifts. For several years this company has been making a generous thank-offering on Easter Day has given over $4,000 in response to this appeal alone.

St. Paul's and Carmel is quite modest in its appeal for Self-Denial and Easter Day gifts for a new floor in the Sunday School Hall and for its Centennial Fund. Gifts specially marked in whole or in part will be applied as directed. Otherwise 75% will go to the Floor Fund and 25% to the Centennial Fund. Please look up all your small envelopes and return everyone with a gift and really swamp our Treasurer on Palm Sunday, March 13th. Reserving your large envelope for Easter Day, March 25th.

Carmel having financed its 75th Anniversary last year will devote all Self-Denial and Easter gifts this year to the interior renovation of the Church. Our policy is no church debt. Raise the money and pay as you go with provision for prudent reserves for the future.

The Red Cross Society is worthy of every person interest. The pictures of Canadians killed in Korea should bring very near to us the work of the Red Cross on the war front while its hospital and emergency ministries at home are well known.

The Stirling Rotarians are to be commended for their leadership in the appeal for Crippled Civilians. Every one doing a bit makes a worthy total.

The congregation of St. Paul's heard two business men last Sunday, Messrs. Boswell, of Hamilton (Baptist) and Robinson, of Belleville (Christian and Missionary Alliance) present the work of the "Gideons International" last Sunday. We were glad to support this work and anticipate the early receipt of New Testaments including Psalms and Proverbs for the Stirling Public School and adjacent rural schools.

Last Sunday the Sunday School attendance at Carmel was 58, possibly all time high. The church attendance was also excellent. Carmel is really out to make this a banner year for church attendance.

Easter Lilies — Please place your order early and plan to have a family at St. Paul's or Carmel on Easter Day. Persons desiring to give cash gifts for memorial or other flowers should notify one of the following Mrs. R. B. Duffin, Mrs. W. T. Elliott, Mrs. R. A. Patterson.

The co-operation of every parent is sought to obtain a maximum attendance at the Junior Choir rehearsals every Monday and Wednesday noon until Easter. The regular Thursday after school practices will be held as usual.

Holy Week Services begin on Monday, March 19th at 8 p.m. and continue at this hour on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights. The Good Friday service will be held at 10:30 a.m. March 23rd.

St. Paul's Choir is expected to be out in full force on Monday, Thursday and Good Friday services. Rehearsals will follow the Monday and Thursday services. Guest soloists will share in the ministry of Holy Week. The Junior Farmers Choir will occupy the choir loft on Wednesday and their rehearsal will follow this service.

Every citizen who is not related to other services in the Village is invited to attend the Holy Week Services at St. Paul's.

These services will not exceed one hour in length and are designed to cleanse, sweeten and refresh every worshipper. Self-Denial gifts may be presented at these services.

A congregational meeting will be held in the school room on Monday following the service to elect office bearers to fill vacancies on the Trustee Board, Session and Committee of Stewards.

On Tuesday all members of the W.A. and W.M.A. are expected to attend in a body. A Trustee Board meeting will be held at the close of this service.

On Wednesday the Young Marrieds will be at home to the Young Adults of Carmel and invited spinster and bachelors. All will attend the Holy Week Service and enjoy a social fellowship afterward in the Church School room.

On Thursday all Sunday School Teachers and officers and members of the Official Board will worship in a body.

On Good Friday the Rite of Confirmation will be administered at St. Paul's. On Easter Sunday the Rite of Confirmation will be administered at Carmel.

The Holy Communion will be administered to members of these classes.

Easter Sunday, March 25th will be filled with the joy notes of Christianity. Special music will be heard both at Carmel and St. Paul's. Numbers will include works by Mauder, Handel, Stainer, Mozart, Bach, Martin Shaw, Faure, Ira Wilson and others. Soloists of the Easter tide will include Mrs. J. Black, Mrs. Walter Warren, Miss Irma Campbell, Miss V. Brown, Miss Helen Stapley, Wm. Aylesworth, Harry Brown, Wm. and Edward Reynolds, Jack Bush and others.

On Palm Sunday St. Paul's Choir will interpret Mauder's beautiful Cantata "Penitence, Pardon and Peace." Plan to attend this service next Sunday evening.

On Easter Day the annual service of the Royal Stirling Junior Choir will be held at 7:30 p.m. Upwards of sixty boys and girls will present this copy-right service entitled, "Resurrection Morn." This should be a family night.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was observed at St. Paul's and Carmel last Sunday. Mrs. Macklin and Mrs. Thain sang the duet, "Jesus Is All The World To Me," and the choir Stainer's "God So Loved The World."

Our prayer interest goes out for Mrs. Warren Preston who is seriously ill in Belleville Hospital and to all who are under medical care or beset by anxieties.

The Rector of Christ Church, Belleville, Rev. Creegan, very graciously welcomed a group of visitors from St. Paul's last Sunday night, including a number of our choir boys. We were invited to attend an after service rehearsal where choirmaster Simpson extended every hospitality to us. Those providing cars for this ministry were H. C. Bird, Geo. Carlisle and X. P. Mayhew. We hope sometime to hear this fine choir in Stirling.

Mr. Geo. Merten who conducted the School of Puppetry in Stirling last week will be at St. Paul's Church at 1 p.m. on Good Friday to give any further counsel in his power to those who attended the school. Mr. Mertens is turning aside to make this flying visit enroute to Ottawa.

A letter of interest has been received from Dr. Harry W. Mack, Detroit, whose father was a Baptist Minister born at Wellman's Corners. Correspondence from all former members and friends will be welcomed as we prepare for the Centennial at St. Paul's in 1953.

Bethlehem Steel

Within two weeks of publication of departmental maps, representatives of Bethlehem Steel, second largest steel making concern in the world, had taken option on 400 acres of land, two miles east of the town of Marmora. Since last May, this one company has completed 20 drill holes ranging from 500 to 1,900 feet in depth.

A departmental official at Ottawa said the air survey work was pressed all during the winter of 1949-50 with flights extending all the way to the Georgian Bay area.

While the department at Ottawa was unable to hazard an opinion as to the lifetime of the Marmora deposits, it considers them as major importance. And it asserted that the whole area, up to the Bay itself would be prospected intensively in coming months.

Iron Discovery In Hastings Sparks Intensive Hunt

Intensive prospecting for iron ore in all the region between Belleville and Parry Sound on Georgian Bay has been sparked by a major discovery in Hastings County.

Indeed the search for vital deposits may skirt the north and eastern fringe of Western Ontario.

To date, little attention has been paid to the discovery of the Marmora Iron Ore field, north of Belleville. This, however, is regarded officially in Ottawa as one of the most remarkable stories in the history of Canadian mining; one that ultimately may have a tremendous impact on Canadian and American steel production.

Feed U.S. Plants

The Marmora find will feed American plants, but the discovery thereof of vast deposits of magnetite ore has spurred the search west and north to the shores of Georgian Bay. Millions of tons of iron ore have been proved in the Marmora field, buried under 100 feet of limestone. It is expected that actual mining operations will start shortly.

The Marora discovery came as the result of cooperation between provincial and federal government agencies.

Began in 1948

The story begins in 1948 when the Ontario deputy minister of mines and his chief geologist went to Northern New York. They made that visit in order to study the methods employed to discover and process the magnetite iron ore of the Adirondacks. There they noted certain similarities between the geology of that region and that region and that of Hastings County in Ontario.

They decided to use the same technique employed in finding the Adirondack bodies — the airborne magnetometer. With the help of the Department of Mines and technical surveys a job of mapping 1,450 square miles was completed in April of last year.

Holloway*Church Re-opening

Holloway United Church held the re-opening of their Church on Sunday, March 11th, with a good attendance at both services.

Rev. Flatt, Minister, was the speaker in the morning and Rev. McKenzie, of Queensboro, was the guest speaker in the evening. Two very suitable messages were enjoyed. The Choir, under the leadership of Mrs. Don Rose, sang in the morning the anthem, "March On," and a very pleasing solo by Mr. Carman Dafoe was very much appreciated. During the evening service the choir rendered "Ye Have Done Unto Me," and Mrs. Don Rose, in her very capable manner sang, "Open The Gates of the Temple."

The day was ideal and the interior of the church, with its new color scheme and new rugs was beautiful, of which all are very proud. Through the fine efforts of the people and money donations from outside the rebuilding of the church and the re-decoration of the interior was made possible. Again we express our thanks.

The members of the West Huntingdon W.M.S. and W.A. held their meeting at the home of Mrs. M. Sarles, West Huntingdon, Thursday afternoon of last week. The meeting was in charge of the President, Mrs. N. Grant.

The meeting was opened with the reading of a poem by Mrs. W. Grant, "My Yoke."

My burden is to heavy, Lord I trembling said.
I can no further carry it And tears I shed.

Then came a sudden cry for help From one pressed:

I ran to seek him, gladly gave Him of my best.

Then thought I of my heavy burdon.

But, lo, 'twas gone

The gloom and doubt had vanished quite,

And love's light shone.

When we another's burden lift

Or try to bear

Love's gentle hand removeth swift

Our load of care.

Hymn 189 was sung, followed by prayer by Mrs. Clifford Elliott. The Scripture Reading, Psalm 121 was read by Mrs. John Jeffrey and the Roll Call was answered by the word "Cross." Hello Homemakers! Many a time I have wished that I had written down the recipes for scones that Grandmother used to make. She used to bake 7 varieties and always had about 3 batches baked and stored in covered crocks. The "stone" covers always made a loud noise when we stole into the cold pantry to steal some but Grandmother knew we appreciated them because she brought out honey to add to the ones she sliced for us.

Today we find ourselves sure of good baking results due to modern ranges with accurate temperature controls and delicate flavours from manufacturers' tested ingredients, especially the Canadian milled flour.

TAKE A TIP

Scones and baking powder biscuits are known to Home Science girls as soft dough mixtures. (This group of mixes also includes dumplings and drop biscuits but we shall talk about these items in another column.)

1. Have all ingredients cold.
2. Grease cookie or pie plates ever so lightly.
3. Sift once an approximate amount of flour from which the required amount can then be measured.
4. Measure the dry ingredients; mix and sift them 3 times into a mixing bowl.

Sift and measure flour. Mix and sift dry ingredients. Add shortening and blend into the dry ingredients.

Add fruits. Now blend egg and milk into the dry ingredients. Turn out lightly floured board and knead for one minute, divide the dough into 2 parts and pat into rounds 1 inch thick. Place on buttered baking sheet and cut each round into 4 wedge-shaped pieces. Bake in electric oven at 425 degs. about 15 minutes.

Buttermilk Scones

2 cups sifted flour
2 tbsps. sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
3 tbsps. baking powder
1/2 tsp. baking soda
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, beaten
1/2 cup buttermilk

Mix and sift dry ingredients; cut in shortening, sprinkle buttermilk into the dry ingredients. Turn onto a lightly floured board and shape into 2 rounds about 1 inch thick (not necessary to knead this mixture). Place each round on a floured pie plate, cut into wedges and bake in an electric oven at 450 degs. 12 minutes.

Homemade Quick Biscuits

6 cups sifted all-purpose flour
3 tbsps. baking powder
1 1/2 tbsps. salt
3 cups shortening

Measure sifted flour; add baking powder and salt and sift together in a large wooden bowl. Cut in the shortening until the mixture resembles oatmeal.

Cover tightly and place in the electric refrigerator until needed.

For tea biscuits we use 2 cups of the biscuit mix and 3 cups water or milk. This dough may be used for:

- (1) Meat pie toppings.
- (2) Plain or fruit tea biscuits.
- (3) Cheese biscuits.
- (4) Cobblers made with stewed or canned fruit.
- (5) Shortcakes for fruit or cream.
- (6) Scones for skillet baking.
- (7) Pinwheel biscuits for jams or jelly mixtures.

THE QUESTION BOX

Mrs. H. Mc. asks: Why do the last few biscuits being baked on a cookie sheet burn on the bottom?

Answer: If only 3 to 6 biscuits are being baked at one time do not use the cookie sheet as the metal gets hotter when not filled. Use a shallow pie plate for the last few cookies or biscuits.

Mrs. W. E. asks: Why do some of my biscuits look tipsy?

Answer: Perhaps the biscuit cutter has been sticky. Dip cutter into a mound of flour after each pressing. Always press down evenly and transfer cut biscuits to baking sheet with an egg lifter.

Mrs. D. F. asks: Can I substitute molasses for sugar in muffin recipe?

Answer: You may substitute 1 cup molasses for 1/4 cup sugar and reduce liquid by 1/4 cup of the amount required in the recipe. Do not use more than 1 cup molasses in a plain muffin recipe.

What Others Say!

THOSE HOARDERS!

(Pembroke Standard-Observer)

Warnings against hoarding were sounded by prominent business authorities at the convention of the Ontario Retail Dealers in Toronto recently — We can all remember how hoarding needlessly created shortages during the Second World War and no one would like to see the same thing occur again.

WHAT ABOUT MOLOASSES?

(Prescott Journal)

We had one reply to our query about molasses. One reader told us she was the only one of seven who did not take molasses last Fall and Winter and so far she was the only one of the family not to be stricken by flu.

THE COST OF LIVING

(Trenton Courier-Advocate)

It is time something was done about the inflationary soaring of prices — If town meetings of the old pioneer type were held in every community across Canada in protest against the mounting spiral, the din of the united voices of citizens from coast to coast should stir our parliamentarians into action.

SECTION No. 315

(Municipal World)

There is one particular section of the Municipal Act which we believe is honoured in the breach than the observance and should be given serious attention by the Department of Municipal Affairs. That section is No. 315.

It provides that a Council shall not levy a tax rate in excess of 25 mills exclusive of school and local improvement rates and two mills for aid to hospitals. However, it goes on to say that the Council finds that it is necessary to levy a higher rate to pay its debts and current expenditures it is to do so, but may not incur any further debt without the approval of the Ontario Municipal Board. The blue book of statistics issued by the Department does not show the general tax rate of municipalities but from newspaper reports and other sources it is apparent that a great many municipalities have exceeded the limit, and the annual report of the Ontario Municipal Board does not show any applications having been made to authorize an increased rate. If municipalities are flouting the law in this respect some brake should be put on them or the law should be changed to meet present conditions.

To the second question, the general opinion was that instruction in farming methods should be given in a school where a choice is offered between academic and vocational subjects, including agriculture. Many parents are unable financially to send their children to O.A.C. or university while High School is within the reach of most families. Teachers in farming methods should be as well qualified to teach this work as those in other school subjects. Certain apprenticeship requirements would be of great benefit and should be insisted upon. Government should re-imburse farmers to cover extra expense in such cases.

Melrose suggests that a course in agriculture might be given in night classes.

Part of Brook Dale group doesn't agree with the teaching of agriculture in school, but that practical instruction in farming methods get much better results.

With agriculture the vital necessity is to the existence of mankind it most definitely should be given a place of prominence on the course of study.

to be tough. It's going to be as tough as the government thinks the public will bear — plus something extra as well because nothing is so effective as taxation in hitting inflation. Canada will follow a rigid "pay-as-you-go" policy for 1951-52. This is one place where we differ from the U.S., where there is certain to be a considerable deficit next year.

Combines Defeat Orangemen For Rawdon Title

Excepting the Orangemen, who only had seven men, the teams of Rawdon Township Hockey League were well represented at the gathering in Dr. Hamilton Crawford Arena, Marmora on Friday evening, when semi-finals were played to decide finalists for the cup to be contested for on Monday evening.

Three games were considered necessary by President Charles Wellman and each was of shorter duration than the regular time. Only one period of fifteen minutes was played by Oddfellows and Orangemen to decide third and fourth places. The latter team won by two goals scored by Pollock to one registered by Redcliff. As a result of their win the Orangemen were pitted against the first place Combines to lose a game of two fifteen minute periods by 4-1.

The brothers Jack and Dan Reid evenly shared the goals for the Combines, Anderson scoring for the losers.

The third game, also of two fifteen minute periods, was fought by Trail Rangers and Oddfellows, the latter winning by 2-1. But Sine and Jackson scored for the winners in the second period after Tucker had netted for Trail Rangers in the first. Thus Oddfellows furnished opposition for Combines in Monday night's final. The three games were refereed by George Wellman and were devoid of penalties. The ice was ideal throughout. J. Faulkner, J. Wellman and G. Eggett, officiated in turn as linesmen.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

LIQUID FERTILIZER

The current interest of the Canadian farmer in liquid fertilizer has sound historical and scientific background.

In European countries like Holland, where crop areas are small and yields high, heavy use of liquid fertilizer or liquid manure is made. In China, product has been maintained for centuries through use of liquid manure.

Pioneer research work on liquid fertilizers, as we know them today, was done in 1931 by Dr. Victor A. Tiedjens and Professor Lyman G. Schermerhorn of the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station at Rutgers, N. J. Their purpose was to provide a more efficient, more economical method of using fertilizer materials, and their approach was that of the plant physiologist who studies the growth and functioning of plants.

Fertilizers are used to supply plant nutrients which the crop cannot get from the soil. Professor Wallace S. Moreland, Rutgers University states: "Unfortunately the nutrients in dry fertilizers cannot be used in the form they are applied since plants only absorb foods which are dissolved. Thus, during dry weather, you may have plenty of fertilizer in the dry soil, but it is no sense available to the plant. An adequate supply of water is the key that unlocks plant food in ordinary dry fertilizer."

Liquid plant food provides the nutrient elements that a plant requires immediately available. This is especially important in early, critical stages of plant life, for, instead of lying dormant waiting for rain, the plant obtains natural growth.

Further research by Dr. W. O. Robers of East Malling, Kent, England, and Dr. K. Starr Chester, of the Battelle Memorial Institute, Columbus, Ohio, amongst others, demonstrated the practical benefit of treating seed grain with liquid fertilizer to conserve valuable fertilizer materials; to assist earlier emergence, longer growing season, early maturity. Practical use by thousands of farmers on large acreages has confirmed these findings.

Seed treatment with liquid plant food enables the farmer to know that a fair share of nutrients is available to each plant at the start. Additional nutrients can be supplied to the crop by top dressing with liquid plant food during various phases of growth. Ordinary spraying equipment can be used reducing the farmer's investment in expensive equipment. Weed sprays and liquid fertilizer, applied in the same operation same time and labor.

SPRING CLEANING

The mass upheaval in the home which used to make spring days quite unbearable bugbears for the whole family can be almost entirely eliminated with a little planning, according to Kap Taggart, Supervisor of Home Furnishings for the Women's Institute Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture. She claims the modern homemaker with her modern equipment cleans weekly, by week, leaving only a few annual jobs for the spring.

If this very desirable state of affairs has not been achieved in the home already, Miss Taggart suggests developing a routine for extra weekly cleaning which will make it possible. For example on cleaning day of one week, all pictures can be taken down, dusted and washed. Another week, the tops of doors, windows and the woodwork can be given special attention — and so on around the calendar.

If this sort of a schedule is followed, Miss Taggart says there will only be a few special jobs left for attention in the spring. Window washing is one of these and a good time to remove the smoky winter dirt from the windows is when the storm windows are removed and the screens put on. Any of the excellent commercial glass cleaners will help with the job. If you want a home-made cleaner, she suggests adding coal oil or vinegar to the water. For polishing the glass a chamomile cloth is excellent, as it leaves no specks of lint.

Another tip for window cleaning is to have two people on the job. If one works inside and one outside the window, this cuts the possibility of missing small spots, which often can be detected easily from the other side of the glass. In addition the companionship of two persons working together seems to make the work easier.

Miss Taggart says that wooden furniture also needs good cleaning each year, and perhaps this job can be added to the spring routine. One good method to clean table tops and such surfaces is to use a solution made up of one quart of hot water to which has been added one tablespoon of turpentine and three tablespoons of boiled linseed oil. This should be kept over hot water while using. For cleaning dip a clean, soft cloth into the solution, ring it out well and wash the furniture wood. To polish, use a soft cloth and rub with the grain of the wood.

After a thorough cleaning, a thin coat of wax may be applied to the wood. This will protect the surface and make daily dusting easier. To make sure the coat of wax is thin, place a little wax inside of the cloth. Then rub the surface to be waxed with the outside of the cloth, thus allowing only a small amount of wax to come through onto the wood. Polish with a soft, dry cloth, always rubbing with the grain of the wood. A rapid, light motion in polishing gives a high gloss. Remember it is the heat of friction that gives the shine.

Such a spring cleaning of the furniture will leave it in good shape for the regular weekly job. Polish may be used weekly, and Miss Taggart says a home-made polish of equal parts of vinegar and olive oil will serve the purpose. This should be shaken well and a small amount applied with a duster. After using furniture polish, it is necessary to polish the surface with a soft dry cloth to remove any excess oil. The measure of a perfectly clean surface is one which does not show finger prints.

GOOD PRE-LAMBING NUTRITION PAYS

Inadequately nourished ewes produced lambs approximately one pound lighter at birth than well-fed ewes and the mortality in the lighter lambs was three to four times higher, it has been shown in experiments conducted by S.

B. Williams at the Department of Agriculture's Animal Husbandry Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. A ewe that lambs in poor condition often does not have enough milk to ensure maximum lamb gains, Mr. Williams added.

One of the most critical times in the yearly cycle of sheep husbandry is the period from mid-pregnancy to lambing. During this time the rapidly developing foetus is making increasingly greater demands on the dam. While the ewe can deplete her body reserves to nourish the unborn young, it is false economy to let this happen so great care should be taken in the food given during this pre-natal period.

Good quality legume or mixed hay should be the basis of the sheep ration. If sufficient good hay is not available for the entire winter-feeding period, the inferior hay should be fed first. Roots and silage add succulence to the diet and are welcomed by the sheep. However, the feeding of corn should be discontinued three or four weeks before lambing, or large soft lambs may result.

If the ewes are in good condition and good quality legume hay is being fed grain is usually unnecessary. Should the ewes need grain, one half to one pound of a mixture of equal parts of oats and bran can be given from about one month before lambing. Fresh water and a mineral mixture should be available at all times. A mixture of equal parts of salt and feeding bone-meal is adequate unless specific deficiencies such as iodine or cobalt exist in which case the necessary mineral should be added to the mixture.

A CAUTION ABOUT MAPLE SYRUP

Soon the sap will be running, ushering in another season of maple syrup. During the last few years a considerable amount of table syrup has been offered to individuals and stores by unscrupulous peddlars as maple syrup. Frequently the containers bear labels with false names and addresses.

Department of Agriculture officials caution that the best way to buy maple syrup is from your regular store or a peddler from whom you have bought before and who has a reputation for honest dealing.

If you have any doubts about the syrup you buy, make a note of the peddler's truck or motor licence number and jot down the date of purchase. Then if the syrup is found to be imitation, the Department of Agriculture has some chance of tracing the seller and prosecuting under the Maple Products Industry Act.

But it's just as easy — and much safer — to buy from a reliable store or trustworthy peddler.

MEAT GRADERS STUDY CONSUMER PROBLEMS

Government meat graders may find themselves going to school regularly, every year, if an experiment recently conducted in Toronto shows the kind of results it is expected to show. The experiment was a special school for federal government meat graders in which particular attention was given to the requirements of the Canadian meat consumer. Qualified graders from coast to coast were given concentrated training in all aspects of the grading of meat, especially beef. The consumer angle was emphasized through lectures by recognized consumer authorities from both government and industry as well as visits to packing plants, chain stores, independent meat shops, railway dining car depots, army butchering establishments and other places where consumer meat preferences were discussed, first hand.

R. A. Thompson, of Toronto, meat specialist with the Marketing Service of the Canada Department of Agriculture, was class instructor. Frank Baird of the Marketing Service, Ottawa, was school manager. The students rated the school "intriguing" and "revealing." They spent long hours in packing plant coolers, their classroom in the Ontario stockyards building, abattoirs, on stock farms and at the Ontario Agricultural College and Ontario Veterinary College.

Attending were John Petticrew, of Vancouver; Charles Haggith and Vince MacDonald, of Edmonton; William Munro, Saskatoon; Frank Bowman and John Tropak, of Winnipeg; Paul Dionne and Jean Aubin, of Montreal; James Reid, Moncton; W. D. Laurie and Lloyd Crawford, Toronto. A number of Ontario graders dropped in as duties allowed.

Better than 9 out 10 Canadian households have a radio and in 1948 radio licence fee was paid by 1,944,027 set owners.

CONSERVATION NEWS!

CARE WITH FIRE PERMITS BEING STRESSED

With the 1951 Fire Season only four weeks away, officials of the Department of Lands and Forests are giving the question of Fire Permits special attention. A survey of the 1950 season shows that some of the most serious bush fires resulted from permit fires which "escaped."

In the Fire District, and during the period April 1st to October 31st, any person desiring to burn brush, trash, debris or other inflammable material out-of-doors must first obtain a Fire Permit. This applies to settlers, road construction crews, railway, woods operators, cottage owners and so on, the only exception being fires used for cooking or obtaining warmth.

Permittees are required to first pile the material at least 50 feet from any uncleared land, satisfy Department officials that all necessary precautions have been taken to prevent the fire from escaping, don't do any burning in windy weather, and guard the fire until completely extinguished.

For their part, in keeping the danger of such losses to a minimum, chief rangers will issue permits only when hazard conditions make it safe to do so. It is unlikely that permission to burn will be granted from April 15th to the end of May, the period before new growth appears and when hazards sometimes develop almost overnight. This year construction crews and settlers are being encouraged to burn debris as early as possible while the fire danger is at a minimum. The latter part of March and first week in April are usually safe times for this purpose.

MANAGED WOODLOTS MEAN MONEY

Results of the recent market survey and experiences of several progressive woodlot owners offers great encouragement to the man seeking best values from his land. Here are some of the things a good woodlot can do for him:

1. Provide lumber for farm buildings and fuelwood to heat your house.
2. Produce logs and other material which can be sold for cash.
3. It is the best cash crop for poor land. Waste land is a burden to owner, the township and the country. Forest cover changes waste land from a liability into an asset.
4. Bush work can be carried on in the winter thus providing employment for extra help the year round.
5. Woodlots have many indirect benefits such as:

(a) Reducing the runoff of water and feeding it to the underground water table.

(b) Acting as windbreaks and controlling erosion by either wind or water.

(c) Woodlots provide a recreation area and a suitable habitat for birds and animals.

Assistance in getting started on the right basis is available at any time from the Zone Forester's office, Department of Lands and Forests, Napanee.

FISH AND WILDLIFE

From all reports ice fishing has been exceedingly popular in the Quinte District this winter. On a recent Sunday, Conservation Officers counted some 150 anglers on a lake in Frontenac County, an indication that the sport is growing in popularity. Action was taken by officers in several areas where set lines were discovered, five men being apprehended in one section alone.

Commercial Fishermen still report poor success due to insecure ice and difficulty in reaching nets. A few hoopnet fishermen however have had fair catches recently.

Red Wing Black Birds, Crows and Robins were seen at several points and indications point to an early spring. Muskrat trappers are busy getting their equipment ready for the opening of the season, March 21st, and a number of trappers are returning to their lines to complete beaver quotas. One officer, S. A. Shields, of Renfrew, has already sealed 331 beaver pelts in his area since the season opened.

Two Quinte District trappers attended a three day Trappers' Conference arranged by the Department of Lands and Forests in Toronto last month. One was Amos Brant a Mohawk Indian from the Tyendinaga Band at Deseronto, and the other, Dan Prentice, an experienced trapper from the Bouteill area east of Bancroft.

Fifteen men, eight of them Indians, attended the meeting, which is held by the Department every year for the purpose of discussing trappers problems with Fish and Wildlife Officials.

Stirling Minor Hockey Teams Guests At Rotary Testimonial Banquet

"Tim" Daly, Trainer of Toronto Leafs, Guest Speaker, — Close To 200 Present

Members of Stirling's Midget and Bantam "C" hockey teams, together with their parents and supporters, prominent officials of the O.M.H.A. and Rotarians, numbering in all close to two hundred attended a presentation banquet in the Stirling Community Hall on Monday night.

Sponsored by the Rotary Club of Stirling, the banquet was in honour of the local Midgets and Bantams, O.M.H.A. Group Champions. President W. Cornett occupied the chair and Miss Muriel McKee presided at the piano. Following the singing of O Canada, grace was said by Rev. H. Vacavlik, and the large crowd was served with precision and a minimum of confusion by Mrs. Harold Morgan and her assistants.

Following the banquet Rotarian C. I. Hatton acted as master of ceremonies for a programme of toasts, addresses, instrumental and vocal numbers, ventriloquism and presentations of championship crests.

"Tim" Daly
Guest Speaker

Guest speaker of the evening was "Tim" Daly, well-known trainer of the Toronto Maple Leafs, who is a goodwill ambassador for the Club. Other prominent guests occupying seats at the head table were Herb Parker, of Stratford, President of the O.M.H.A.; Jack Christie, Toronto, Secretary of O.M.H.A.; Sam Curry, Tweed, Group Convenor O.M.H.A.; Jack Devine, Sports Director C.J.B.Q., Belleville; Arthur Duncan, President Trent Valley Hockey League; and Geo. Carver, Sports Columnist Ontario Intelligencer, Belleville.

Witty Address
Delights Kids

Introduced by Jack Devine, Sports Director C.J.B.Q., Belleville, Mr. Daly stated he represented the greatest sports organization in the world, being one of 18 goodwill ambassadors, and delighted his young listeners and their parents with stories of the operation of a National hockey team. He interspersed his remarks with tales of his personal experiences and humorous witticisms and presented several of the boys with autographed programs and hockey sticks of Toronto Maple Leaf stars, Harry Watson, Max Bently, Bill Juzda and Flaman.

He got a tremendous kick out of travelling about speaking to groups of young hockey players, stated Mr. Daly, and he urged the parents to encourage their boys to play the game. "If parents took more interest in the manner in which their children are brought up there would be fewer go to prison," he said.

Comparing the cost of operating a hockey team today and an earlier era, he said each Maple Leaf player had three pairs of skates, six sticks for each game, and two uniforms, while in 1905 when he was in Cobalt, a team going to Montreal for three days took all its equipment in one small box. Each player had a pair of skates and two sticks and no pads, with the exception of light shin pads. In those days a team could be operated for a season for $1000, while last year the equipment for the Leafs cost $14,750, he said.

For travelling the Leafs have their own private railway coach and each player is given $5.00 per day for two meals. They get the third on the official coaches. "That's the one they eat," quibbled the speaker.

Maple Leaf Gardens was "the greatest ice palace in the world" stated Mr. Daly. It's painted four times a year and twenty-eight men are employed to keep it clean.

He paid tribute to Foster Hewitt and his Saturday night broadcasts, which were eagerly looked forward to by inmates of hospitals and shut-ins, and made the members of the Toronto Leafs the most publicized in the world. He expressed the hope that one of the young players present would one day wear a Maple Leaf hockey sweater.

He stated the minimum player salary in the National League was $6,000, while two years ago, through bonuses, Turk Broda got $16,000. He told of a week's travel by the Leafs and of the many celebrities he had met through his connection with the Maple Leaf Club.

He closed his address with the presentation of autographed souvenir programs and hockey sticks and several humorous stories.

Toasts Honoured

The toast to "The Fans" was ably proposed by Dr. R. Vandervoort, who paid tribute to the supporters of the local minor teams for their loyalty and financial and moral support, all of which made the work of the Club executive so much easier.

Repling to the toast Fred Houchin commended the players for their enthusiasm, co-operation, skill and sportsmanship. He thanked the executive and players for the privilege of being a "fan."

Messrs. X. P. Mayhew, H. Smith and Maurice Bell delighted the audience with a group of numbers, with X. P. Mayhew doing a bit of vocalizing.

The toast to "the parents" was proposed by Doug Patterson. "We're here to honour the lads for their great work of the winter, but let's not forget those who are behind the boys, the parents," stated the speaker, in paying tribute to the fine spirit of co-operation and loyalty of the parents. The fine qualities of character of the parents was reflected in the sportsmanship and clean play exemplified by the boys in play. Bill Montgomery responded.

Frank Hockaday, of Trenton R.C. A. F., gave an exhibition of ventriloquism, which was much appreciated by the audience.

The toast to "the teams" was proposed by Arthur Abernethy and capably responded to by Ray Hermiston and Bobby Palmer, captains of the respective teams. Both presented coaches Doug Patterson and A. Abernethy with gifts on behalf of their respective teams.

Presentations

President Herb Parker of the Ontario Minor Hockey Association presented Bobby Palmer, of the Bantams with a representative crest because the rest had not arrived. In a brief address he told the boys they should always advertise themselves well by acting like gentlemen and cited several instances of how minor hockey players had made the Professional Leagues.

"You have the benefit of good coaches, good parents, and a good Rotary Club. Always conduct yourself so that you will be a credit to the community, to the team management and to yourself," he said.

Sam Curry presented the crests to the Midgets, following a brief address, and Jack Christie, secretary, spoke of the expansion of the O.M.H.A. and its success since inception. Over 15,000 boys are now playing under the O.M.H.A. and its success is not due alone to executive members but to the co-operation of coaches, managers and players in all parts of the province.

Being a pro hockey player was not the important thing but the Association's main purpose was to have boys learning to play hockey under the guidance of men who can help them to become good citizens, stated Mr. Christie.

Brief congratulatory addresses were given by Jack Devine, Sports Director C.J.B.Q., Arthur Duncan, President of the Trent Valley Hockey League, and George H. Carver of the Ontario Intelligencer.

Stirling Branch of Canadian Legion To Sponsor Two Nights of Fun

A professional director by the name of Juanita Kaiser has arrived to direct the famous and successful Home Talent Show, "Uncle Ezry's Hayloft Jamboree," sponsored by the Canadian Legion of Stirling. Says Miss Kaiser, "I'm thrilled to return to Canada."

"Your town and its people are wonderful and I'm looking forward to working with the talent of Stirling and surrounding community."

Auditions will be held throughout this week and next at the Legion Hall on Thursday and Friday nights of this week and Monday and Tuesday of next week. If you can sing, square dance, jig, play a fiddle, guitar or any other type of instrument, or if you can do specialty acts, then there is a definite place for you on this show.

The speaking characters in the show who are to be selected and trained by the professional director include impersonations of Joe Kelly, Master of ceremonies for the barn dance and quiz master of the quiz kids; Lulu Bell, girl comedian and sweetheart of the barn dance; Hiram Hicks, comedy character and Uncle Ezry, funny old man who gives the Jamboree in his hayloft — and of course eight boys and girls from the 5th and 6th grades for quiz kids.

In conjunction with the Jamboree, Tiny Top Popularity Contest will be held — any child under six years is eligible and immediate entry is requested. Proceeds to go for the Legion benefit. The votes will be one penny per vote or folding money cheerfully accepted. Silver loving cups are to be awarded the winners and gifts of silver presented the other four winners — Prince and Princess and Duke and Duchess. The mothers are asked to decorate a quart jar and scotch tape a picture of the child onto the jar; also put a wide slit in the top of the jar and bring to the Legion Hall immediately or to the residence of Mrs. Clarence Rollins, so they will be taken care of. There will be a window in a downtown store with all the jars and pictures where people can vote for their tiny tot. Winners of the contest will be presented from the stage of "Jamboree" the last night of the show. They will be crowned by Uncle Ezry himself. Look to page eight for further details.

Roy Strickland To Attend Scout Jamboree In Austria

Roy Strickland, son of Mrs. Mary Strickland and the late Alfred E. Strickland, Lindsay, formerly of Stirling, has his summer vacation planned for this year. Roy is a 17-year-old, grade 12 student at L.C.I. and recently he was notified that he had been selected as one of the 32 Scouts to represent Canada at the World Jamboree of Boy Scouts to be held in Austria this summer.

Roy says he is immensely pleased with this signal honour that has been bestowed on him and the town of Lindsay that he be selected as one of the 10 from Ontario to attend this Jamboree where Scouts from nearly all the free countries of the world will congregate for ten days. He says that there were 32 applications received by the provincial headquarters of the Boy Scouts Association and of these, ten boys were chosen. Considered in the acceptance of applications was all camping experience, of which Roy has ample. King Scouts were selected and preference was given to Scouts holding the Bushman's Throng.

He says that the trip to Salzburg, Austria, will commence on July 18th, when Canada's 32 representatives leave Montreal for Southampton. They will arrive in the Salzakmergut area in time for the Jamboree which starts on August 3rd. This area was formerly the Imperial summer residence. The Jamboree ends on August 13th and ten days later the boys leave Southampton for home.

It is not known yet what the programme at the World Jamboree of Boy Scouts will consist of but usually the gathering camps under canvas for ten days at this rally to build up a better understanding between boys of different countries.

Roy Strickland received a telegram from the provincial commissioner W. A. J. Tisdale informing him of his good fortune. The district commissioner in this region, W. S. Battersby, also received a telegram from Frank C. Irwin confirming the appointment. Roy's late father was also an active member of the Scout movement having been a Scoutmaster in Pilton in the 1920's. —Lindsay Post.

Late Mrs. Baldwin Reid

The sympathy of the community is extended to the family of the late Mrs. Baldwin Reid, a well known and highly respected citizen, whose death occurred Saturday morning, March 10th.

Mrs. Mary Minchin Reid was a woman of strong character. She came of a family keenly interested in higher education and the better things of life, whose members hold positions of trust and honour. She was vitally interested in the work of the church and all its organizations and was a faithful member and attendant of Beulah United Church. She had a special interest in the work of the W.M.F. and Red Cross Societies, was untiring in her labor and gave generously of her time and substance. Thus, serving her church and her country well.

Mrs. Reid was a devoted wife and mother, a loyal friend and a kind neighbour. She was held in high esteem and warm affection by a large circle of friends, who regret her passing.

Mt. Pleasant Woman's Missionary Society Meets

The March meeting of Mount Pleasant Rawdon Woman's Missionary Society was held on Wednesday, the 14th at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Weaver.

There were ten members, one visitor and four Baby Band members in attendance. One fee was paid. The service opened with quiet music played by Mrs. Burton Sharp.

The Past President, Mrs. Roy Thrasher, was in the chair. She read a poem, "The Lord Will Listen If You Pray," which the President had sent to her last week from St. Petersburg, Florida. All sang, "There is a green hill far away." Several members read portions of "The Lord's Prayer," written by George A. Little, D.D., as it appeared in the March Monthly. This was given under several headings: "Whose prayer is it?" "Appreciate the Lord's Prayer," "Think it through," and "Pray it." If there is a great fellowship of people really praying, then they will transform our country, for real prayer means real purpose and wins the strength to accomplish it.

The minutes were read and approved. Roll Call was answered with Easter Thoughts and the Treasurer gave her report. There are five life members and eleven annual members fees paid to date. The annual thank-offering envelopes were passed out and they are to be placed on the plates at the Easter Service on March 5th. No one was able to attend Presbyterian at Picton on the 15th.

The Bay of Quinte Branch W.M.F. will convene for a full meeting in Bridge St. Church, Belleville, on April 3rd, 4th and 5th and it is hoped some will be able to attend. The Vice Presidents are asked to plan the April meeting on the eleventh. A letter was read re the memorial for Mrs. W. L. Smyth and a special offering of $2.00 was taken for Mount Pleasant Auxiliary. This was forwarded to Miss Constance Wagar by Mrs. Percy MacMullen. Another letter from Miss Wagar was read thanking Mrs. MacMullen for her own personal contribution as Mrs. MacMullen served four years as Branch Press Secretary, when deceased was President. Mrs. Smyth's daughter plans to contribute some of her mother's furniture to be used in this special room in the Missionaries' Home.

The hostess was thanked for hospitality, the visitor was welcomed, Mrs. Gordon Linn and Ruth were thanked for arranging programme. Sympathy was extended to Mrs. Frank Jeffs in the loss of her sister.

Miss Ruth Linn gathered the offering and this was dedicated.

Mrs. Frank Jeffs outlined the Study Chapter based on "How the Japanese have been living." She gave a description of the average home in that land. Simplicity is preserved in all homes. Dealing with agriculture there have been various changes through the years but up until war-time probably no nation had a better reforestation record.

Japan took advantage of her great coastline and she ate of the wealth of the sea, but Japan could not provide an adequate living for her growing population, so her only answer was manufacture and foreign trade. In spite of handicaps, Japan probably had the highest living standard in the Far East — medical science had made great strides — every male from 17 to 40 was liable for military service. Labor laws limited the homes for work, but family life in Japan had one series defect, the wife was not regarded as a partner. Today the Christian Church is trying to awaken interest in the building of real Christian homes where all are one family.

The Easter programme opened with the hymn, "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross," Mrs. Eric Summers read the Easter Bible Story, found in the sixteenth chapter of St. Mark. Mrs. Percy MacMullen read a poem entitled "Easterly," by Margaret E. Sangster, after which she offered prayer for the work of Missions at home and abroad. Mrs. Burton Sharp sang an appropriate Easter message. Miss R. Linn gave the devotional paper entitled, "The Story of Easter." All sang "Jesus Christ is Risen To-Day," and Mrs. Thrasher closed with a splendid prayer for our Missionary, Miss Eleanor Graham. The hostess served home made candy.

What Others Say!

LOOKING US OVER!

(Peterborough Examiner)

A visit to Ottawa is a check on optimism — and we are not marking a sordid remark about the forthcoming budget. Ottawa is still snow-bound. Old, dirty snow it is, but there are several feet of it on front lawns, and side streets are still one-car lanes. Spring will come to Ottawa in due course; and in due course to Peterborough. It is not yet due.

GREAT FOLLY

(Kingston Whig-Standard)

Any motorist who picks up an unknown hitch-hiker courts abuse, robbery, injury and death. It does not matter that criminally inclined hitch-hikers are only a minority of all those who thumb rides by the roadside. No driver can tell whether he is picking up one of the minority or one of the harmless majority. Admittedly, the chance of getting one of the latter is greater, but is it worth the gamble when the driver's life may be at stake?

INJURED DIGNITY

(Windsor Star)

A woman in Vancouver has been awarded $2,000 in a suit against a hotel. This is on account of injuries to her spine, received when she sat on the floor after a waiter had removed the chair in which she was sitting. What would the award have been had she been compensated for the injuries to her dignity?

PERMANENT LICENSE PLATES

(Petrolia Advertiser-Topic)

A Main St. resident was rather out of sorts this week as he beat the deadline of February 28th in getting the 1951 license plates for his car. He said that in the process of removing the old plates and putting on the new, he had ruined a perfectly good screw driver, broken a hacksaw blade, scratched his less than a year old car, scraped some tender skin off two fingers and got thoroughly chilled. But what really riled him was the fact that the job he was doing, when all this damage occurred, should have been completely unnecessary. Permanent or semi-permanent license plates, as has been adopted in several states and at least one province on this continent, would have eliminated this messy annual chore.

CONTempt of COURT

(Toronto Financial Post)

A judge's power is supreme in contempt of court cases and there can be no review of a sentence for such an offence when the court has proper jurisdiction, Mr. Justice Gale ruled in Toronto recently.

There is risk however there is supreme power. Our people should have some protection against a judge suffering from some minor attack of indignation or a super-inflated ego.

There should be an appeal from contempt of court decisions. There is no good reason why a legal decision in these cases should be any more sacred than in any other.

EQUAL FEMALE RIGHTS

(Napanee Express)

One of the last bailiwicks of the male populace is about to disappear. When called for a jury, a man has — until now — been assured of a good stag party for the length of the trial. Not only were the ladies not invited, they were prevented by law from crashing into the "men only" society of juries.

Now Ontario juries will be subject to the many cartoon quips that United States juries suffer. For example, we remember one that had two women with identical hats serving on the jury. One lawyer, discussing the probabilities of winning a case remarked, "There's a hung jury if I ever saw one."

No longer will a defense lawyer strive for pretty girls as witnesses nor will a glamorous defendant, (Evelyn Dick, for example) have a pretty fair chance of easy treatment. Not only have the women secured equal rights for themselves but they will now have equal justice.

For, ladies with all your great striving for emancipation, you have to take the bitter with the sweet. You may find that while "it is a man's world," "all is not beer and skittles."

We suggest that the ladies may find it a bit more difficult to get a job when they are assured of equal pay for equal work. A pretty leg plus a lower pay rate has made it a sure thing for many of the gals who sought employment in industry. The gals may find that when a business man runs his business efficiently, the pretty leg will not have nearly the power it has been thought to have in the past.

The fewer shekels have had a great bearing on the ease with which Rosina the Riveter found a job to support her family.

a Little buys a Lot of telephone service

EVERY DAY we receive hundreds of requests for service. Its cost hasn't gone up as much as most other things you buy; in fact, your telephone bill now takes a smaller part of the family budget than it did five years ago.

With more and more families getting telephones, you can now talk to twice as many people. And so, in that way alone, you get a lot more telephone service for your money.

At the same time, the quality of telephone service keeps steadily improving in many ways, and, as always, telephone people try to be helpful and friendly. Any way you look at it, today's telephone is big value!

St. Paul's-Carmel

Items of Interest

(By Rev. A. E. Baker, U.E.)

This is Maundy Thursday. Plan to attend the Holy Week service at St. Paul's tonight.

Good Friday will be marked by a special service at 10:30 a.m. at St. Paul's, when the Rite of Confirmation will be administered. All citizens not worshipping elsewhere are cordially invited to this service.

St. Paul's choir will broadcast direct from the church at 2 p.m. Good Friday. Persons so desiring may attend this service. Station C.J.B.Q.

Easter Sunday will be a day of glad praise at St. Paul's and Carmel. The Easter Choir will sing at Carmel in the afternoon and the Rite of Confirmation will be administered. The special Easter morning service at St. Paul's will include a trombone solo, "The Holy City;" Dudley Buck's great anthem of the Te Deum, will be sung by St. Paul's Choir with solo parts by Mrs. Walter Warren, Mrs. J. Black, Harry Brown and Wm. Aylesworth. Other Easter tide praise will make this a worthy service. Everyone plan to attend church on Easter Sunday.

While the Royal Choir will have its place in the morning service its special ministry will be the annual Easter evening service. At 7:30 p.m. this choir will interpret "Resurrection Morn," a special copyright service in song and story. Upwards of fifty girls and boys will occupy the choir loft and pulpit area.

Easter lilies should be sent or brought to the church with spring flowers or flowering plants during Holy Week. The flower committee will decorate the church on Saturday afternoon or evening. Plan to have a part in this Easter Ministry.

Finally important but not the most important is your Easter Thank-Offering. If you have misplaced your special envelope just use a plain one marked "Easter Thank-Offering" with your name. Let this be a great day of thankful giving. Lenten Self-Denial envelopes may also be presented. An average gift of $10.00 per family will make possible a new floor in the Sunday School Hall.

Appointments to St. Paul's Centennial Committee include Miss Della Caldwell for the W.M.A.; Mrs. Carleton Wright for the W.A. and R. A. Patterson for the Senior Choir. A meeting will be held when all societies have made their appointments.

A new name is sought by St. Paul's Young Married's. It has been decided to include in the scope of this society bachelors and spinsters. Please send your suggestions to Secretary, Mrs. Maurice Bell.

Rev. Wesley Hunnissett, Supt. of Fred Victor Mission, has sent a letter of thanks for four cartons of supplies left there on March 6th by an unknown "Good Samaritan from Stirling." We have learned that Mr. Fred Bateman was this messenger. Mr. Hunnissett says "he means a lot to us that our friends are thinking of us — we could not handle the need — without the help of friends such as yourself and your congregation."

Entries for the Stirling Festival of Sacred Praise may now be sent to Mrs. Walter Elliott, Stirling.

The annual Convention of the Ontario Temperance Federation will be held on March 28th and 29th in the First Baptist Church, Ottawa. The program includes such leaders as Dr. William Smith from "Skid Row" Chicago; The Rev. Emlyn Davies, recently from Wales, now of Yorkminster, Toronto; Miss Vashti Ishee, leader in Education from the State of Mississippi and Mr. S. D. Kalekar, information officer of the Gov. of India. Plan to make up a carload and visit the capital for at least one or both days. Delegates desiring voting credentials should call Mr. Geo. Carlisle.

The names of all former residents related to St. Paul's or its origin churches should be noted and given to any member of the Centennial Committee.

Possibly the first residential letter box in Stirling was installed in the Parsonage front door last Tuesday by Arthur Morrison. Letters, notices and papers may now be inserted when the family are away.

Every house in Stirling should be equipped with such a letter box. It is a wonder that our enterprising merchants have not erected such boxes in which orders could be placed by persons visiting the village after store hours to be picked up or delivered as directed. It would also be a convenient way to pay accounts when the shops and offices are closed.

It is a poor will that makes no gift for the Lord's work. Death often comes like a thief in the night. Plan to make a bequest to the Trustee Board of St. Paul's or Carmel Church in your will.

The window plan for the Carmel Church has been approved. What family or individual will give the first memorial or tribute window?

Sunday School Teachers are asked in a circular to rate their efficiency by allowing 5 points for each of the following questions except 2 where (a) rates 8 points and (b) 7 points for satisfactory answers.

1. Worship (a) — Do you attend at least one church service unless hindered by a real reason every Sunday? (b) Do you apply the Sunday School worship service to yourself? (c) Do you practice personal fellowship with God giving sometime each day to Him?

2. Lesson Preparation — (a) Do you devote a minimum of one hour per week to lesson preparation? (b) Do you make a written teaching plan?

Bishop Wallace E. Conkling, head of the Episcopal Diocese of Chicago recently announced that former Roman Catholic Priest Edward L. Malivdzak had been received into the Episcopal Church. Previously he served in Roman Catholic churches in Pittsburgh, was editor of "Furde," official organ of the R.C. Slovak Union of America and Chaplain of the Mt. Pleasant Penna. Council of the Knights of Columbus.

The Director of the Royal Stirling

Junior Choir plans to issue medallions to be worn around the neck over the surplices to all members of the choir who obtain "Honour" standing in solo classes at the Stirling Festival of Sacred Praise. Qualification to wear this coveted honour will not depend on age but on interest in vocal improvement, regularity of attendance and good conduct. Thus the medallion wearers will be a choir within the choir. Every member should strive to merit one of these marks of achievement and honour.

Who's Who!

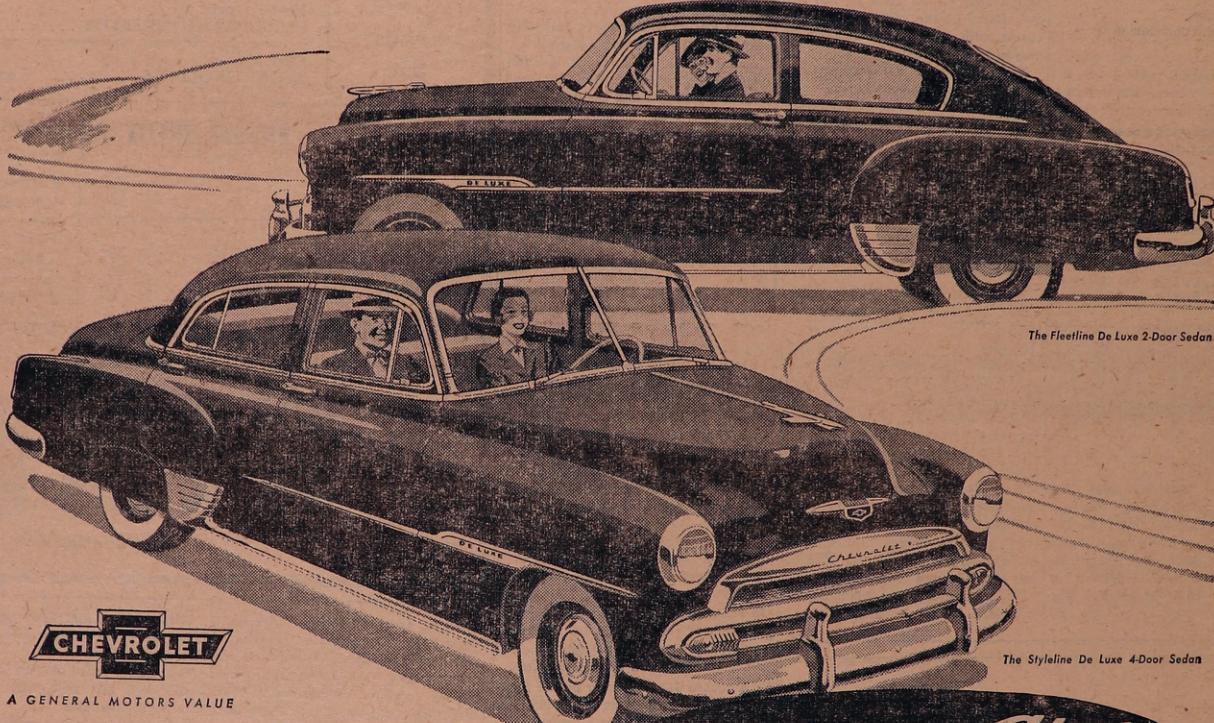

We write today of one who was born beneath a hollow log (basswood log roof) at the "Big Springs" Rawdon Township, now Bonarlaw on Easter Sunday, April 13th, in the reign of "Victoria the Good." Deep snow covered the ground and March winds were reluctant to give place to April showers. The Anglican parents of this boy were so concerned lest he should not live that they called in a Presbyterian Minister who was visiting in farming and lumbering while his devoted wife plied the household care,

Emmanuel Colleges, Toronto — to christen him. Ten years later to fully satisfy any scruples they held with respect to Baptism by a Presbyterian and to enlarge his Christian name he was Christened a second time by Rev. Harris of the Church of England, and to "George" the previous description was added "Henry."

The father of this twice baptized Huguenots from Alsace-Lorraine. His father had spent ten years in the Imperial Army before coming to Canada achieving the same rank as Napoleon Bonaparte. At Belleville he met and wed Annie Johnson, a native of the land of Robin Hood (Nottingham) and they took up a residence on the 12th Concession of Rawdon. It was 85 years ago that George Henry Lueray seeking freedom and something he could call his own bent his back to clear land, erect stone fences, cut grain with a cradle and engage in farming and lumbering while his devoted wife plied the household care, (Continued on page seven)

HAY AND PASTURE MIXTURES

Demand for forage crop seeds is strong this spring and as a result prices are relatively high. This strong demand reflects the importance of hay and pasture crops to the livestock industry as well as the important part these crops play in maintaining our soil, according to K. E. Fallis, Fieldman from the Crops Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Mr. Fallis goes on to point out that, while prices for these grass and legume seeds seem high, the cost is really spread over several years, since one seeding may last from two to ten years. Keeping this in mind, he thinks that buying good seed of the most suitable varieties should receive first consideration. While the initial cost may be a bit higher, such seed is usually the cheapest seed in the long run.

Mixtures of grasses and legumes give the best results for both hay and pasture, and the choice of these is important if best results are to be obtained. Choice of kinds and varieties of these seeds will depend on their ability to yield a good tonnage of high quality feed on the soil type where they are to be grown, and for their hardiness and persistence from year to year. When different species are grown together as a mixture, it is important they should have the same general preference as to soil types and conditions.

For hay meadows, Mr. Fallis says that simple mixtures of one grass and one legume will give satisfactory results, provided conditions are uniform over the field to be seeded. The use of one legume under uniform field conditions results in less competition from less productive plants and the cost of the seed is substantially reduced. An example of this type of mixture which has been giving good results on well-drained, non-acid soils is a mixture of 7 pounds of alfalfa and 10 pounds of bromegrass per acre. On fertile, non-acid loam soils a mixture of 2 pounds of Ladino Clover and 5 pounds of orchard grass per acre has also given a good account of itself.

The addition of a greater number of species can be regarded as insurance against adverse conditions. Since different species grow best under different conditions and have different periods of maturity, such mixtures will be less affected by variations in soil or drainage within a field, by seasonal variations from year to year, or by the season of the year.

For this reason, mixtures to be used mainly for pastures, should contain a wider variety of grasses and legumes. These can be built up from the simple mixtures already mentioned. The total rate of seeding is increased for such mixtures, though the rate of the original species may be reduced. For well-drained, non-acid soils, Mr. Fallis suggests a mixture of 5 lbs. of alfalfa, 3 lbs. of red clover, 5 lbs. of bromegrass, 3 lbs. of orchard grass and 2 lbs. of timothy, giving a total of 20 lbs. per acre of seed. On soils which are not so well drained the mixture might be 6 lbs. of red clover, 3 lbs. of alsike, 1 lb. of ladino, 4 lbs. of orchard grass, 3 lbs. of meadow fescue and 3 lbs. of timothy.

For long-term pastures the addition of 1 lb. of Ladino and 1 lb. of White Dutch Clover to the mixture for well-drained land will be an improvement. For the land which is not so well-drained 1 lb. of White Dutch Clover will be useful. Red Clover soon dies out in pasture and is replaced by Ladino and White Dutch. Hence if the seeding is to be used for pasture exclusively, the proportion of Red Clover might be reduced or even omitted.

POINTERS FOR MAKING NEW LAWNS

The difference between a beautiful green stretch of healthy grass and a patchy, mud-dotted lawn is the knowledge the owner had when he started to make the lawn. All over Canada, thousands of new lawns are in the making, most of them still in the planning stage. That stage — planning — is the place to make the best use of knowledge. Here are a few points suggested by J. H. Boyce of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa:

(1) A medium or sandy loam soil relatively high in organic matter is desirable. If good soil exists on the lot scrape it off and stock pile it before excavation is started.

(2) Drainage — Good surface and underdrainage are essential to the establishment of good turf.

(3) Grading — The lawn should slope gradually away from the house. Avoid sharp breaks in contour if possible.

(4) Organic matter — May be added in the form of manure or peat to improve the structure of both light and heavy soils.

(5) Liming — Do not apply lime unless a soil test shows it to be necessary.

(6) Fertilization — The application of fertilizer prior to seeding is desirable on all soils and is essential on soils of low fertility. Apply uniformly and work it into the soil during the course of seed-bed preparation.

(7) Seed-bed — Prepare a firm seed-bed, finely pulverized at the surface by alternately raking and rolling.

(8) Time of Seeding — Seeding should be done as early as possible in the spring or during late August and early September.

(9) Seeds mixture — Select a mixture containing species which are adapted to the location.

(10) Seeding — Broadcast the seed uniformly.

(11) Covering — Cover seed by lightly raking or by applying a thin layer of screened topsoil. Follow covering by rolling.

(12) Watering — Keep the seed-bed moist but not flooded until the seedling grass becomes well established. Avoid washing the seed from the soil.

More complete details concerning the establishment of turf are contained in the circular "The Construction and Care of Lawns" which may be secured from the Division of Forage Plants, Central Experimental Farm Ottawa, or from Information Service, Canada Department of Agriculture, Science Service Building, Ottawa.

SENSATIONAL DOUBLE WORLD RECORD MADE BY NORTHERN HOLSTEIN COW

Northern Ontario is not generally regarded as one of the dairying districts of Canada and it is news when a great record is made there. When to this is added the fact that two World Records have been made in one lactation by the same cow, both of them substantially higher than the previous records, then we have something to crow about indeed. This is the case with Halliholm Rag Apple Anne, a purebred Holstein owned by Mrs. Mary Kierstead, Sturgeon Falls, Ontario.

Starting on government supervised Record of Performance test as a senior pearlring Anne has completed a yearly record on three-times-a-day milking of 1006 lbs. fat from 17,915 lbs. milk (5.62%) that surpasses for butterfat anything ever previously reported from any animal of any breed anywhere in the world in either the Senior Yearling or Junior two-year-old classes. Calving within 400 days of the start of her lactation to qualify for the 305 day division, Anne's 305 day production is quoted at 864 lbs. fat from 15,738 lbs. milk (5.50%). This is also a World Record over all breeds for the Senior Yearling and Junior two-year-old classes.

The former World Champion junior two-year-old for 365 days on three-times-a-day milking was another Canadian Holstein, Rag Apple Carnation Ida, owned by David R. Stevens, St. Mary's, Ont. with 935 lbs. fat from 20,628 lbs. milk, while a U.S.A. Jersey Commando Jester Mina, was the former World Champion in the 305 day division with 755 lbs. fat from 11,201 lbs. milk.

Up to the present time only one junior for two-year-old has produced over 1000 lbs. fat in a year. She is the U.S. Holstein Friesian Alma, who gave 1002 lbs. as compared to 1006 for Anne. However, Alma's record was made on four-times-a-day milking while Anne's was on three-times-a-day milking. Actually, Anne was milked twice daily for 231 of the days included in both her 305 and 365 day records.

Anne was fed and milked throughout most of her record breaking lactation by 14 year old Viola Kierstead.

The latter is now attending school away from her home and the feeding and milking is being handled by her 12 year old sister Miriam. She was hand milked throughout, stood in a stallion, and went to pasture with the rest of the herd. According to Mrs. Kierstead "Anne is a pet which has been a factor in her success. Contented cows, like people, can do their work better than those that are afraid all the time." Mr. A. Kierstead supervises the herd.

The new champion was bred by Harry Hall & Son, Harriston, Ont.

Most Canadian movies are now being made on acetate (safety) film, which does not burn as readily as the old-style celluloid.

CLUB LEADERS CONFERENCES

Boys' and Girls' Club Work in Ontario is off to a splendid start for 1951, according to A. M. Barr, Associate Director of Extension for the Ontario Department of Agriculture. He points out that the assistance of local leaders has played a very important part in the expansion of project work with boys and girls between 12 and 20 years of age. Looking forward to the programme for 1951, four conferences for the leaders are being held. At these, the leaders will have the opportunity of hearing speakers and of gaining ideas on ways of giving even more effective leadership to their own clubs.

Each conference will hear J. D. Moore, Public Relations Officer for the Canadian Council of Boys' and Girls' Club Work, outline "Highlights of Club Work in Canada." E. F. Pineau of the Production Service, Dominion Department of Agriculture, will discuss "Your Club Programme." A dramatized sketch, "How Do You Do It," will bring out points about club leadership. For the afternoon programme, discussion groups will be formed on Livestock, Field Crop, Forestry and Tractor Club Projects. Mr. Barr states that all those interested in Boys' and Girls' Club Work are cordially invited to attend their nearest Club Leaders Conference. These are being held as follows:

Ontario Agricultural College, at Guelph, Wednesday, March 28th; Peterborough Normal School, Friday, March 30th; Kempton Agricultural School, Wednesday, April 18th.

CONSERVATION NEWS!

WOODS OPERATORS OPTIMISTIC ABOUT HAULING OPERATIONS

Taking advantage of cooler weather and frosty nights, woods operators in the Quinte District have lost no opportunities to complete log hauls. Reports during the past week indicate that very little if any material will have to be left in the woods due to the early breakup.

Department scalers will be busy during the next few weeks completing permit scales and preparing returns.

BEAVER INCREASING

Indications that beaver are steadily increasing come from many parts of the Quinte District. Officers have been busy sealing pelts brought in by trappers, over 400 being marked in the Cabotagow patrol area alone since the season opened. Even in the south part of Frontenac County, where a few years ago no beaver licenses were applied for, fourteen pelts have been marked by the local official.

COMMERCIAL FISHERMEN

Good catches of smelts and fair success with whitefish are reported by several Commercial Fishermen operating in Lake Ontario. Ice conditions are restricting operations in the Bay of Quinte.

HANDBOOK PREPARED FOR SCHOOL FORESTRY CLUBS

School Forestry Club members will be glad to hear about a new handbook prepared in the one Forester's office at Napanee. The booklet, edited by assistant Zone Forester Don Scott, contains a lot of useful information related to the Club programmes and local reforestation and woodlot management problems. It will be distributed at the next meeting.

SCHOOL FORESTRY COMPETITION ANNOUNCED

To encourage the establishment of School Forestry plots and study of Forestry, the Ontario Horticultural Association has announced its plans for the 1951 Forestry Competition. The contest is sponsored with the co-operation of Mr. A. R. Jackman of Owen Sound, Mrs. D. W. Boucher, Kingston, The Ontario Conservation and Reforestation Association, Department of Lands and Forests, and School authorities. Past success has been most encouraging.

Prizes totalling $50.00 are being awarded in each District, with the winning school eligible to compete in the Provincial Competition later in the year.

Details of the contest and the list of rules may be obtained from the Zone Forester, Department of Lands and Forests, Napanee, or the District Forester at Tweed.

TREES BLOWN DOWN AT SANDBANKS

The Sandbanks Forest Station did not escape the effects of the severe wind storm which hit Prince Edward County March 3rd. A number of trees were blown down and the local staff will be busy for the next week or ten days cleaning up the debris.

mothering her children William, Mary (Minnie), Susan, Emma, George Henry, Nelson and David.

George Henry Jr. attended S.S. 13 where his exceptional powers of memory were noted and cultivated by his teacher Mr. E. T. Williams. "G. H." claims thirteen as his lucky number. He was born on that date, on Lot 13, attended S.S. 13, went to work at 13, and worked 13 hours a day. His first employment began in the dry goods business in 1885 at Marmora. In 1894

Nettie Armenia Rosebush, daughter of John Rosebush (who lived for many years on what is now the Hamilton Donnan farm). Mr. Rosebush was of Pennsylvania Dutch origin, the European form of the name being De Rosiers. Mrs. Rosebush's maiden name was Agnes Nix. She came from Prince Edward County. Thus the descendants of the DeLury's and the De Rosiers families with aristocratic backgrounds in Europe were united by the Rev. Spencer, Baptist Minister of Stirling at the Rosebush home on August 14th, 1892.

Mr. Luery served as clerk of the village of Stirling from 1912 to 1949, during which time his salary increased from $75 to $250 per year. On his retirement he was presented with an engraved gold watch in recognition of long and faithful services. He is well versed in municipal law and has served on church and library boards. In earlier years he was a member of the Church of England later transferring to the Presbyterian Church and when the great union in 1925 took place he joined the United Church of Canada.

He is said to be one of the best groomed men in Stirling and has always been fastidious. His wife confesses he is "too fussy" in affectionate compliment. He is the originator of the Stirling "Morning Glory Club" and may be seen with military stride possibly inherited from his soldier father and carrying deftly the "mark of a gentleman" covering the bounds of Stirling and its adjacent roads in almost daily excursions to which he largely attributes his good health and may we add his good nature.

Mr. Luery passed his High School Entrance examinations at age 12. He enjoyed ice skating for 15 minutes and then gave it up for an earlier love "shinny" played with a crooked stick and a block of wood. He still carries some souvenirs of those fierce cross checking encounters. He was a patron of the Stirling Roller Rink in 1884 but now finds his garden a delight and profit where surplus energy can be well spent. For many years Mr. Luery was active in the Orange Order serving as Master and District Master. He was also active in the Oddfellows and is still a sustaining member of the "Chosen Friends."

Although he lived through an age when chewing tobacco was bought by the pound he eschews it. He is a moderate smoker (two cigarettes a day). We suspect by this standard there must be a number of immoderate smokers in Stirling. Mr. Luery believes far too many especially women are "slaves to the weed."

The counsel of this man of long and tested experience should be heeded if we are to escape an unusually large number of "hags" in years to come.

He was joined in Holy Matrimony to

Mr. Luery bears testimony to the benefits resulting from the operation of the Ontario Temperance Act in Frankford and Stirling. He holds no brief for the booze business and concurs in the judgment of our leading merchants that Stirling is one of the best if not the best business centre for its size in Ontario. Breweries wares are not being openly sold in Stirling to short change more legitimate business. Certainly money that is spent on beer will not buy boots and money spent on spirits will not buy groceries. Mr. Luery advocated street signs for Stirling years ago and is interested in promoting a small maternity and emergency hospital for the village. If his ancestors were "autocratic aristocrats" he has moved to higher ground becoming an "aristocratic democrat."

His devoted and charming wife was born on New Year's Day, January 1st, 1872. She was active in church work until more recent years when she has been largely confined to her home. Mrs. Luery introduced the envelope system to the Woman's Missionary Society. She is a skilled dressmaker and has been known to make a real fancy dress in a day. In addition she is gifted in tatting, crocheting, knitting and more recently turned to designing the hat of a "High Priest" with the assistance of her faithful companion, Mrs. Eliza Ketcheson, who assists in the household care at Luery's.

Mrs. Luery maintains one of the "homeliest" homes in Stirling where every chair invites relaxation and calls to solid comfort. She has a charm and grace of bearing which brings a benediction to a wide circle of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Luery have one son, Earl Arthur Raoul Luery who lives nearby; 4 grandchildren, George Robt., Douglas, Madeline (Mrs. Kenneth Cowan), Marie (Mrs. Desmond Jackman) and three great grandchildren, Robert Paul, Richard and Douglas. It is very doubtful if any other family in Canada can name four generations living happily on the same street with a "stone's-throw."

Mr. Luery is an optimist. He does not believe the world is going to the "low-wows" but rather is slowly moving to answer the prayer "Thy Kingdom Come" when peace and goodwill shall obtain throughout the earth. He is a lover of evening church services. May God grant to George and Nettie Luery "Light at Eventide."

Mrs. Albert Wells is to be congratulated on her excellent management of the t. Patrick's supper at St. Paul's last Wednesday. She was supported by a company of competent attractive women which included co-workers from River Valley and the Oak Hills.

Easter Services In Commemoration of Resurrection Largely Attended

Appropriate Music Rendered By Large Choirs — Flowers Adorn the Edifices

In commemoration of the Resurrection with its promise of eternal life — Easter services were held in all the Stirling churches on Sunday last with large congregations being in attendance.

The sacred buildings were beautifully decorated with lilies, tulips and other spring flowers of varied hues.

St. John's Anglican

Communicants in large numbers participated at the 11 o'clock celebration of the Holy Eucharist at St. John's Church, with over two hundred worshippers present. The beautiful Easter lilies were placed in the church by members of the congregation.

The choir sang the anthem, "Why Seek Ye The Living," with the solo parts being taken by Mrs. Burton Woodbeck and Rev. H. C. Secker, Rector.

Speaking from the text, Colossians 3: "If ye then were raised together with Him, see that your life is henceforth lived with Him," the rector emphasized that the greatest proof of the fact of the Resurrection lies in the daily witness to Christ by His followers.

St. Andrew's, Stirling

In St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church the minister, Rev. W. H. V. Walker, delivered an appropriate message on the "Challenge of the Risen Lord." Beautiful Easter flowers adorned the altar.

Both choirs were out in large numbers. The Junior Choir, under the leadership of Mrs. Clarke Rodgers, sang sweetly "Do You Wonder Why We're Glad," while the Senior Choir rendered the anthem, "Christ Is Risen, Alleluia." The Easter music also included a duet, "Let Us Extol Him," by the Misses Arlene Tummon and Marilyn Eggleton, and a solo by Mrs. Kaiser, professional director of the Legion show. All these numbers were well rendered and greatly appreciated by the large congregation. Mrs. Kaiser will sing again next Sunday morning at Holy Communion Service.

Mrs. R. H. Williams presided at the console of the organ throughout the service.

St. Andrew's, West Huntingdon

An exceptionally large congregation gathered at St. Andrew's, West Huntingdon, on Sunday afternoon. Rev. W. H. V. Walker gave an inspiring message based on Luke 24: 6 — "He is not here, but is risen."

Easter speaks of hopes reborn and life renewed, and changed fear into faith, gloom with hope, defeat into victory, sorrow into joy and death into life. Luke 24 and 6 was like a trumpet call, challenging his followers to a higher and holier life, to a new zeal and devotion, to a life of trust and service.

So may his followers today cast themselves in His love and Mercy, and pass from the mists of the lowlands to the joys of the uplands.

A full choir with Miss Bessie Fleming at the piano sang "He Died of a Broken Heart." At the conclusion of the service the "Holy City" was sung by Miss Margaret Haggerty.

Tulips, cut spring flowers and potted plants banked the altar.

St. Paul's and Carmel United Churches

Eastertide interest became intensified as the Season of Lent moved toward its close with Palm Sunday and Holy Week Services. The Minister sought in his messages to nourish and enrich the content of Christ in each worshipper. Bible training (per service) periods were held each night before the Holy Week services began.

The Royal Choir sang "How Beautiful are the Feet" from Handel's Messiah on Palm Sunday morning. St. Paul's Choir sang with resonant beauty the great "Te Deum" composed by Dudley Buck. The soloists took their parts with clarity of diction and a shading that brought many commendations. These were Mrs. Walter Warren, soprano; Mrs. J. Black, alto; Wm. Aylesworth, bass; Harry Brown, tenor.

Faure's, "The Palms" was sung by Edward Reynolds. It was a benediction. Rarely if ever has the deep rich

Local Red Cross Canvas for Funds Very Successful

Local Red Cross Headquarters report the campaign for funds in the village very successful. With a number of returns yet to come in A. V. Greenley, treasurer, reports $1024.68 has been subscribed. According to J. L. Good, chairman of the local committee, the books will be kept open for another week for the convenience of late subscribers.

voice of this soloist been heard with better results.

The tuneful "Merchants Carol," by Martin Shaw; "Here Yet Awhile," by Bach from St. Mathew Passion; "But Thou Didst Not Leave," by Handel; "He Watching Over Israel," by Mendelssohn; "Rest In Peace," by Bach from St. John Passion and "Lord To Thee My Heart I Proffer," by Bach, provided the thrilling organ music of Palm Sunday. The beautiful tones of this instrument which is said to be nearly a hundred years old is a remarkable tribute to its builder.

The church was about two thirds filled by music lovers on Palm Sunday evening when the choir interpreted Mauder's seasonal cantata "Penitence, Pardon and Peace." Muddy lanes and side roads prevented many from attending. The heavier solo parts were taken by Mrs. Walter Warren and Wm. Reynolds. Their strong clear tuneful voices greatly enriched this ministry of sacred praise. Lesser solo parts were ably taken by Mrs. J. Black, Harold Hagerman and Harry Brown.

Holy Week services followed the "eyes of Jesus" through the events leading up to his crucifixion. Mr. Meighen Rodgers sang "O Lord Most Holy" — a beautiful solo on Monday; Mrs. Don Rodgers was the guest soloist on Tuesday singing with clarity of diction, "Teach Me To Pray." The Junior Farmers Choir sang the haunting anthem "All In The April Evening," and Wm. Aylesworth sang "Lord God of Abraham" from the Elijah on Wednesday evening. St. Paul's Choir sang on Maundy Thursday and at the Confirmation and Communion service Good Friday morning.

The Sacrament of Baptism was administered in the Vestry previous to the service on Good Friday.

Those admitted to church membership by Confirmation were Misses Norma L. Donnan, Marjorie Eva Ketcheson, Marilyn E. J. Wright, Janet Anne Good, June M. L. Sleeper, Patricia E. Bruce, Donna L. Carlisle and Messrs. C. Thomas Wells, R. Allen Wells, Allan I. Bird and Charles E. A. Reynolds. Each was presented with a Confirmation Testament with Psalms, the gift of the Y.P.S. by President Meighen Rodgers. Mr. George Carlisle presented the membership and first communion cards. This service was very well attended.

Good Friday afternoon St. Paul's Choir turned out in large numbers and presented an outstanding ministry of Sacred Praise over C.J.B.Q. From the opening hymn "Just As I Am" to the closing hymn "How Bright These Glorious Spirits Shine," the choir excelled even its excellent past records. Mrs. Walter Warren and Wm. Reynolds were the soloists in the interpretation of Mauder's Cantata, "Penitence, Pardon and Peace." Faure's "Crucifix" was sung by Mrs. Warren and Mrs. Black. Verses in the hymns were taken by Mrs. M. J. Black and Messrs. Harold Hagerman and Harry Brown. The many tributes received from listeners are evidence of the quality of this service and a recognition of soloist and choral numbers. Valued features of this service also were a cornet solo by Wm. Aylesworth and the "Robin and Thorn," a trio sung by Misses Irma Campbell, Verna Brown and Helen Stapley. The Church and community are grateful to Mr. Walter T. Elliott and St. Paul's Choir for this fine service of praise.

Easter lilies and spring flowers gave atmosphere to the glorious services of Easter Day. Mrs. M. J. Black and Miss Irma Campbell sang the lovely duet, "The Saviour Liveth;" Mr. Jack

NO MEN ADMITTED WELL RECEIVED

The 3-act play "No Men Admitted" was well given by the "Keen Age Club" from the Tabernacle United Church, Belleville, in the Stirling Theatre on Tuesday night under the auspices of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Club. A large and appreciative audience enjoyed this unusual play and each actor took her part exceptionally well.

Rev. W. H. V. Walker was chairman and extended a warm welcome to the cast and the audience.

The scene for the play is laid in the living room of the Martin home. Cherry and Anne Martin receive a letter which has a great bearing on their future. Their father had left them penniless and they are forced to open a summer hotel. Failure of their love affairs plus the disappointment of their father have made them use the slogan, "No Men Admitted."

Members of the cast were Cherry Martin, Lillian Hall; Anne Martin, Dorothy Lockhart; Doctor North, Pauline Kelleher; Susan, Doris McKillop; Olga, Margaret Stanfield; Miss Lanigan, Ruth Gariepy; Mrs. Upham, Grace Firth; Mrs. Preston, Audrey Davies, and Miss Bina Sadler, Margaret Marshall.

Miss Marilyn Eggleton delighted all with two solos between the first two acts and during the second intermission a puppet show was put on by Ray Hermiston, Bob Jeffery, Jimmie McIntosh and Bobbie Eggleton and proved very amusing.

Following the performance a delicious lunch was served to the members of the cast and their friends.

One of States Toughest Jobs Faces Dr. Salisbury

The following article was taken from the Sunday, March 4th edition of the Phoenix, Arizona, newspaper. Dr. Salisbury is a cousin of Mrs. Earl A. Morrow and Mr. Ed. Salisbury, of town.

"Dr. Clarence G. Salisbury will step into one of Arizona's toughest jobs if his appointment by Governor Pyle as commissioner of health, welfare, and correction is approved by the senate.

And there appears no doubt that the famed 65-year-old "sagebrush surgeon" whose work in Arizona has attracted national attention since 1929 will receive a firm senate nod. This would make Salisbury top executive of the first new department created in Arizona's government reorganization.

The governor, together with many legislators, considers Salisbury the perfect candidate for the job — which he did not seek. They point to his top-flight medical training and experience, his long background of competent public service and his proven ability as administrator and executive in supporting his selection for the key position.

Considered by many legislators as the most sweeping of all reorganization measures, the health, welfare and correction bill under Salisbury's appointment was made consolidates powers and activities of 17 state agencies and nine institutions under a single administrative control. The special legislative committee on state operations whose recommendations, based on the Griffenhagen report, resulted in legislation creating the consolidated department, has felt for some time that it is the most urgently needed state government change. In recommending passage of the bill the committee said:

"Among the departments rendering direct service to the public the committee feels most strongly that the creation of the department of health, welfare and correction will remedy the worst faults of our existing governmental structure."

To Salisbury falls the job of correcting these "faults," ranging from a long-standing welfare feud through such hot spots as the state hospital, industrial school for boys at Fort Grant, and the state health department.

As chief of the department's bureau of preventive medical services, Salisbury has seen firsthand why Arizona's public health program rates far below other states. With Dr. J. P. Ward, state director of public health, he has watched Arizona become a haven for health seekers while public health activities are hampered by low per capita legislative appropriations.

For example last year the legislature spent 13.8 cents a person on the state's public health program. This is less than one-third of what most other states appropriated officials say.

Ward stated that last year 11 Arizona counties "paid out 32.5 cents a person for public health work." Combined with the 13.8 cent state cost, this totalled 46.3 cents a person for health protection, compared with a nationally recommended local-and-state contribution of approximately $1.50 a person.

This enigma is typical of many Salisbury will face in cleaning up the "faults" which the governor and legislature hope to correct with the reorganized department under his direction.

Other headaches sure to claim major portions of Salisbury's time and effort are conditions at the state hospital, where recent charges of poor administration have been made by a former staff physician, and similar charges concerning the state industrial school for boys.

But Salisbury greeted his new assignment with a broad smile after the governor announced his appointment. "There's a lot of work to be done," he said, "and I'm used to hard work. I have told the governor I will do my best."

Pyle said Salisbury's background "is his best recommendation." Born in Canada May 25th, 1886, he obtained his M.D. degree from the Boston College of Physicians and Surgeons in 1913. After two years as assistant house surgeon at a New York hospital he spent 13 years in China as a surgeon and as superintendent of three hospitals there.

Salisbury came to Arizona in 1927 and from 1929 to 1950 was superintendent of Granado Mission and medical director of Sage Memorial Hospital, established at Granado by the Presbyterian Church. It was there that he earned national fame for his efforts in creating a medical program to aid the Navajo Indians.

Dr. Alex Hall Dies In Hornell

Dr. Alexander Hall, 58, one of the oldest practicing dentists in the state, died March 7th following a lingering illness. Dr. Hall was born June 21st, 1892 at Campbellford, Ontario, and has been a practicing dentist since 1892.

Dr. Hall has been in poor health since suffering burns from fire at his home and office, 43 Main Street, Hornell, several weeks ago.

He was a graduate of Ohio Dental College at Cincinnati in 1892. He came to Hornell in May of the following year and had practiced there since. Dr. Hall became an American citizen in 1902. ### God's Tomorrow

Many friends and relatives of Mrs. Arthur Andrews, of Belleville, will be pleased to read this poem which arrived in our mail last week. Mrs. Andrews was the Madoc Junction correspondent of the News-Argus for many years and her column was eagerly read. She has been an invalid for several years and this winter she has been at the home of her grandson in Belleville.

This poem was forwarded to her from Vancouver enclosed in an Easter card and she very kindly sent it on to us at Mount Pleasant. Old friends will enjoy perusing the poem. Mrs. Andrews hopes to be able to spend some time this summer in her old home in Stirling.

God is in every tomorrow
Therefore I live for to-day;
Certain of finding at sunrise,
Guidance and strength for the way.

Power for each moment of weakness,
Hope for each moment of pain,
Comfort for every sorrow
Sunshine and joy after rain.

God is in every tomorrow
Planning for you and for me;
Even in the dark I will follow
Trust where my eyes cannot see.

Stilled by His promise of blessings,
Soothed by the touch of His hand,
Confident in His protection;
Knowing my life path is planned.

God is in every tomorrow,
Life with its changes may come;
He is behind and before me
While in the distance shines home.

Home where no thought of tomorrow
Can ever shadow my brow
Home in the presence of Jesus,
Through all eternity now.

TO PAY 50% DOWN
ON ALL CARS
NEW ABBOTT CURB

New restrictions on instalment buying went into effect Monday, March 19th. The restrictions, part of the Government's anti-inflation machinery, will require buyers to make a larger down payment and pay off the remainder in 12 months instead of 18 months permitted now. In detail, here are the changes:

1. The minimum down payment for motor cars — whether new or used — will be one-half of the cash price instead of one-third. This will apply to motorcycles, but trucks are exempted. The trade-in value of the purchaser's old car can be used as part of the down payment on another car.

2. For all other commodities, the minimum down payment will be one-third instead of one-fifth.

3. In all cases, the minimum down payment will be not less than $10.00. Formerly it was $5.00.

4. The maximum period of credit will be 12 months instead of 18 and add it all up...

WHEN you consider the men, women and money needed to operate 3,700 branches — you see what is involved in looking after the greatly increased demands made by busy Canadians upon their chartered banks.

In ten years ... with bigger staffs and higher wages, payrolls have jumped from $40 million a year to $102 million

... taxes, federal, provincial and municipal, have risen from $9.5 million to $20.7 million a year

... interest paid to depositors has increased from $22 million to $57.8 million a year.

And these are only three of many expense items. Yes, today more than ever, it costs money to run a bank.

One of a series
by your bank

the minimum size of instalment payments will be $10 a month, or $250 a week instead of $5 a month, or $125 a week.

5. Under what is known in the trade as revolving credit plans, the minimum initial down payment will be $10 and wherever new purchases are made under existing credits the minimum monthly instalment will be $10.00.

Get Your Tractor Ready Now!

Some folks have had the idea that farm machinery was going to be plentiful this year. This isn't so. In fact, because of the steel and coal shortages, we are short of what we were this time last year.

What this means is that you've got to make the old tractor do another year's work.

We Repair All Makes of Tractors

We'll call and get your tractor — give it the necessary overhauling and needed repairs — and then return it to you in tip-top condition, all ready to go.

Hello Homemakers! Dried fruits now grace the most elegant tables of fruit, one pound of prunes yields about 4 cups cooked and one pound of dried apples 10 cups cooked apples. If you are thinking of your budget compare cost of a 20 ounce tin of fruit which contains 2½ cups.

The three dried fruits which are in abundance on our grocer's shelves are figs, prunes and apples. When you cook one pound of figs you have 3 cups of fruit, one pound of prunes yields about 4 cups cooked and one pound of dried apples 10 cups cooked apples. If you are thinking of your budget compare cost of a 20 ounce tin of fruit which contains 2½ cups.

FRUIT WHIP

1 cup fruit pulp
1-8 tsp. salt

1/2 cup sugar
2 egg whites, beaten
1 tsp. lemon juice

Heat mashed fruit and salt and sugar together until sugar is dissolved.

Pour hot syrup slowly over stiffly beaten egg whites, beating constantly.

Add lemon juice and fruit. Pile into parfait glasses and serve immediately. Serves 4.

FIG TURNOVERS

1 cup sugar
1 tbsp. flour
1/2 cup water and fig juice
1 tbsp. butter
1 egg, beaten
1-3 cup lemon juice
2 tsps. grated lemon rind
1 cup figs, chopped

1 recipe of Plain Pastry

Combine first 8 ingredients and cook slowly until thickened. Cool. Roll pastry 1-8 inch thick and cut into 4-inch circles. Place tablespoon of fig mixture on half of each circle, moisten edges and fold other half over filling; pinch edges together and prick top. Place on baking sheet and bake in hot electric oven (450 degrees) about 15 minutes. Makes 8 to 10.

Prune Chiffon Pie

1 cup, unflavoured gelatin

1 cup cold water

1 cup chopped cooked prunes

1/2 cup prune juice

1/2 cup water

4 tsp. salt

2 tsps. lemon juice

1 tsp. grated lemon rind

2 egg whites, stiffly beaten

1 baked Pastry Shell

Soften gelatin in water 5 minutes

Combine prunes, juice, sugar, salt, lemon juice and rind, and heat to boiling.

Remove from heat, add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Cool. When slightly thickened, fold in egg whites.

Pour into pastry shell and chill. Makes 1 (9 inch) pie.

Prune Freeze

When you have just enough cooked prunes to make 1/2 cup of pulp, try this dessert.

1/2 cup milk

1 egg, beaten

1/2 cup sugar

1/2 cup cooked prune pulp

3 tsps. orange juice

3 tsps. lemon juice

1-8 tsp. salt

1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Scald milk in the top of the double boller over boiling water. Add egg and 1/2 cup of the sugar, stirring constantly until custard coats spoon.

Remove from heat and cool. Mix remaining sugar with prune pulp, fruit juices and salt. Fold fruit and whipped cream into cooled custard. Pour into freezing tray of electric refrigerator and freeze. Serves 6.

TAKE A TIP

1. To clean the waffle iron easily use a small stiff brush.

2. To remove burnt or thick grease from pan pour 1 inch water into pan, add a tablespoon baking soda, heat without a cover. (Do not let it boil over.)

3. Care of flour sifter is necessary to prevent collection of grease and dust. Soak in clear cold water then brush. Rinse in warm water. Dry in warm oven then store in paper sack.

4. If food chopped is not used frequently rub contact parts with unsalted fat or salad oil.

5. Only fine powder such as silver polish or window cleaner should be used on stainless steel.

THE QUESTION BOX

Farm Forum News

"Pipe Lines of Information," was the subject under discussion in Farm Forums on Monday, March 19th.

This refers to Farm Extension services. Extension services are the means by which up-to-date information on farming and the results of scientific research are brought to the farmer.

They also bring information and guidance to the farm housewife and to farm boys and girls.

H. R. Hare in his book on "Farm Business Management," says, "The farmer is something of a machinist, blacksmith, electrician, carpenter, geologist, engineer, architect, psychologist, accountant, business man, veterinarian, meteorologist, bacteriologist, chemist and laborer."

In other words, a farmer has to know something of a great many different subjects.

In order to get all the information on all the new developments for himself he would be busy reading all day and would have no time for farming. This is where Farm Extension Services come in.

The Forum in reporting Brook Dale, Hazzards and Melrose agreed that they as farming communities do not make good use of the agricultural services as they might.

Brook Dale says that more farmers than ever before are using these services because they realize the value of the information received.

Brook Dale draws our attention to the time devoted to farming interests over local radio station C.J.B.Q. and wonder how many farmers take advantage of this helpful service made available by Mr. Phil Flagler.

Melrose reminded that the Agricultural Representative has a great deal of information for us and that we should thus offer. Many farmers have had costly experiences which might have been prevented by consulting the Agricultural Representative.

Hazzards stated some of the reasons why farmers haven't made use of these services:

(1) Negligence.

(2) Often the changes suggested by scientists required cash that was not available. (One group thought that combining the young farmer's ambition with the older farmer's pocket-book would be helpful.)

(3) Distance from the Agricultural Representative's Office is a drawback.

"What farm and home extension services are needed in your district that are not available now?"

Afternoon Teas make friendly entertainment

"SALADA" TEA

tural Office would be a decided help, Brook Dale, being an old established community felt that such services central.

More soil surveys, more publications presenting results of research; an annual clinic, more emphasis put on the demonstration lots, crop improvement, soil testing and suggested crops for various types of soil.

Hazzards says that a second Agricultural Farming would be helpful.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

THREE WHEAT BREEDS FOR EASTERN CANADA

Problems connected with wheat breed selection are not customarily associated with eastern Canada, but each spring an increasingly large number of eastern farmers decide to grow several acres of spring wheat. This trend is impelled by high feed wheat costs and increased freight rates for grain from the west. The result is a veritable flood of inquiries directed at the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa.

J. G. C. Fraser of the cereal division at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, has responded by recommending, in this order, Cascade, Coronation and Regent.

Cascade was introduced in 1947 by the cereal division and has attracted considerable attention because of its stem rust resistance and consistently high yield: it does not stand bad weather at harvest time and must be handled carefully under those conditions.

PLOT HELPS CONTROL STRAWBERRY VIRUS

Recently, virus diseases have become a threat to commercial strawberry growers by reducing yields in Canada. Until virus-free indexed stocks are available, a special propagation bed using the most vigorous plants obtainable is advised by S. H. Nelson of the Department of Agriculture's Division of Horticulture, Central Experimental Farm at Ottawa, to increase production of better stocks.

It is important that the propagation bed be well isolated from possible virus carriers such as other fruiting plantations and wild strawberries. The selected plants should be planted three to four feet apart in each direction and inspected frequently. Questionable plants should be removed and the roguing severe, never giving a plant the benefit of the doubt.

It is not enough to discard the poorer plants and save the better ones. Everything but the best must be rogued out. As virus diseases are carried in the plant sap, runners from an infected plant will carry the disease, so remove them all. If this practice is carefully followed, the general level of vigour should be higher in subsequent years.

One of the greatest handicaps confronting the strawberry grower in eastern North America is that many varieties do not show the symptoms usually associated with virus diseases. They are known as symptomless carriers and the grower at first may not know that his plantation is virus-infected. Eventually, the effect of the viruses will become apparent with a variable amount of dwarfing, lessened runner formation, and eventually the running-out of the variety.

INCREASING INTEREST IN SHELTERBELTS

Serving to beautify the home surroundings and protect the farmstead, shelterbelts totalling some 300 thousand trees have been established on 66 Illustration Stations and District Experiment Stations throughout Canada.

KING OF THE GRASSES

Timothy is still king of the grasses under soil and climatic conditions prevailing at the Experimental Station at Lennoxville, Que.

Tests showed that red top approached timothy closely and bromé and Reed canary grass yielded approximately one-half ton less, with orchard grass and meadow fescue still lower. Officials pointed out to obtain maximum yields and high quality forage it is advisable to have some legume mixed with these grasses.

NEW POST FOR W. B. GEORGE

W. B. George, of Kemptonville, has been elected chairman of the Advisory Fertilizer Board of Ontario. It has been announced in Toronto by A. H. Martin, director of the crops, seed and weed division of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Mr. George is the head of the chemistry and soils division at Kemptonville Agricultural School and is well known as an authority on soil management. He is also prominent as an executive official of the Ottawa and District Amateur Hockey Association.

He has become chairman of the Ontario board in succession to Dr. Ford A. Stinson who has resigned as chief of the soils department Ontario Agri-play-offs and staying home the night of the game.

Sunday home-work is largely a twenty century by-product of two world wars. In earlier years it would have been regarded as a reflection upon the mental ability of the student as well as his moral and spiritual worth. Perhaps it is still true that new occasions teach new duties and time makes ancient good uncouth.

If Friday night and Saturdays are properly employed there is every reason to believe that the student who uses Sunday for rest and worship will be much further ahead at the end of the course. It is admitted however, that there are exceptions to every rule due to abnormal exigencies such as is noted in St. Matthew Chapter 12- verses 11-12.

We do not think Sunday study is a sin except where it is a "supplanter." This principle also applies to skipping, motorizing, boating, etc. When any interest comes before one's duty to God it is a sin. It is written "Thou Shalt have no other gods before me."

It is said that "Job" was the most patient man who ever lived. Who was the most patient woman? We would like to make several nominations. One has put up with from two to four feet of water in her store cellar for forty one years.

It would seem that our able Council should invite provincial assistance if necessary to remedy this seasonal nuisance which precludes the use of the basement. Pending rectification it would seem fair that some compensation should be made. If this woman had set the patience of a "blue-blood" Presbyterian there would have been serious trouble long since.

A music copy of the Hymnary was dedicated Easter Sunday, the gift of the choir in loving memory of Lillian May Richardson Irwin the mother of Mrs. A. E. Baker.

G. Edward Warren was elected an Elder of the St. Paul's congregation at a Congregational meeting called for March 19th and adjourned until March 20th. At this meeting Clare West was elected a Steward and Dr. W. Cornett, Dr. Ralph Vandervoort, Claude Tucker and Francis Jeffrey members of the Trustee Board.

At a subsequent meeting it was decided to call for "bids" for the old shed; to prune the large tree near the furnace room entrance; to secure prices and information re a new floor for the Sunday School Hall and to authorize the erection of the memorial tablet on the wall of the church auditorium (inside). It was also decided to make enquiries re erosion affecting the brick at top of the church tower.

THERE'S MONEY FOR SEED at the B of M

For many farmers, operating funds are low at this time of year. It's the in-between period when there's lots of expense, little income. If this is your problem, talk it over with your B of M manager.

If you can plan repayment from your farm income, there's money for you at the B of M — for seed, feed or fertilizer.
